

2,000 CARRANZA TROOPS DESERT TO VILLA

GENERAL LUIS HERRERA RENOUNCES "FIRST CHIEF"

BELIEVE FORCE IS PREPARING TO MOVE TOWARD AMERICAN ARMY

Possible Effect of Desertion on Other Carranza Leaders Causes Much Discussion—Funston Receives Report With Grave Concern—Herrera Could Embarrass Greatly Efforts of United States.

BULLETIN.
EL PASO, Tex., March 22.—Machado Herrera, brother of General Luis Herrera, was arrested here tonight by Captain Hall of the city police. Captain Hall said he arrested Herrera after the Mexican had returned from a two hours' conference with General Carranza at Juarez. He refused to make any further statement in connection with the arrest.

BULLETIN.
EL PASO, Tex., March 22.—The street cars between El Paso and Juarez were ordered stopped tonight at 9:30 p. m. No explanation was given by the company for the order. It was learned later that the street cars had been stopped in the recommendation of the military authorities. The manager of the street car company said that the crews on the cars were getting nervous and that he did not care to take any risks, although he knew of no actual trouble.

Captain L. L. Hall of the El Paso detective force said tonight that in addition to the city police and soldier patrols, the latter amounting to seventy-five men, a reserve of 300 infantrymen equipped with machine guns were stationed within six blocks of headquarters ready for call in case of emergency. He said he had been assured by the military authorities that the infantry could report at police headquarters in fifteen minutes after being summoned.

COLUMBUS, N. M., March 22.—(Passed by censor) General Luis Herrera, until recently Carranza military governor of Chihuahua, has renounced Carranza and announced in favor of Villa, taking the field in Western Chihuahua with 2,000 troops, according to reliable information received here today. The exact place at which General Herrera's troops are engaged was not indicated in the message which reached Columbus from a source that always has been found thoroughly reliable. It is believed, however, that the troops, most of whom recently constituted the Carranza garrison at Chihuahua City, tonight are at some place in the distance between the San Pedro and Chihuahua and are preparing to work north and west toward the American punitive expedition in the field under General Pershing.

People Favor Bandit Chief.
The sentiment of the people in this district, which lies about seventy miles directly east of the Guerrero region, in which Villa began his days as an outlaw, is strongly in favor of the bandit chief. His success in withstanding Porfirio Diaz' rurales for eight years, during all of which time there was a heavy price on his head, was due to the loyalty of the people, who worship Villa as an idol. Army men believe here that Herrera and his command will have every possible co-operation from the people of the district.

The report of Herrera's desertion marks an important development in the American campaign to capture Villa, according to experienced observers of Mexican military affairs. It is pointed out that the reported renunciation of the Carranza standard by Herrera is the first to be made by an important military leader of the de facto government since the American troops crossed the international line a week ago. The possible effect upon other Carranza leaders, who have been reported to be wavering in their loyalty to the government of the "first chief," was food for much discussion. No reports were received as to the arms and equipment of the Herrera command, but it is declared he can cause the American expedition much trouble by pursuing tactics of guerrilla warfare in a country with which he and his troops are thoroughly familiar and in which it is believed they have the sympathy of the people.

General Herrera was military governor of Chihuahua at the time of the massacre of eighteen foreigners at Santa Isabel several weeks ago.

huanhua had aligned himself with Francisco Villa against the United States, was received with grave concern by General Funston and his staff.

The long intervals between General Pershing's reports already had keyed the tension somewhat although General Funston and his chief of staff continued to profess the belief that all was well with the troops below Casas Grandes, but the report from Chihuahua made significant anxiety they might have felt concerning General Pershing's operations.

Officially and unofficially the opinion here was that if Herrera has joined Villa the international situation might be made so complex that the pursuit of Villa would be regarded as incidental. Consul Beltran of the Carranza government received no word of the action of Herrera.

According to the version reaching here Herrera was removed Monday from command and immediately took steps to alienate his garrison. That Carranza has enough loyal troops in Mexico to drive him from the City of Chihuahua if he attempts to hold the place was believed by military men here, but it was feared that retention of Chihuahua would not be his plan.

Could Embarrass U. S.
If the report should be true and if Herrera desired to, he could embarrass greatly the United States in its efforts to run down Villa and his followers.

Cutting of the Northwestern railway at certain points would make it impossible for the Americans to use this for forwarding supplies for the army even if the Carranza government decided to grant General Funston's request.

Another move that it was feared he might make was to the north and east along the trail to Ojinaga and assist Villa by attacking Presidio, Texas.

A small American force is there now and this probably will be strengthened. Such a raid would not be so simple as that effected at Columbus however, since the dividing line is the Rio Grande river. What progress General Pershing has made in his pursuit of Villa since Monday was not known at General Funston's headquarters today. A report from General Pershing was received today but it dealt with affairs of last Monday saying that it had been reported to him that Villa and the Carranza troops were engaged near Namiquipa. At that time a detachment of the seventh cavalry had reached Cruces only a few miles north of Namiquipa and one of the aeroplanes sent south from Casas Grandes was then in communication with that force.

Only One Aviator Missing.
Whether the Americans since had come into contact with Villa's men was merely guess work here. The aeroplane whose driver is believed to have been Lieutenant Gorrell, reported missing south of Casas Grandes, was last seen going over Colonia Juarez, a settlement near Casas Grandes, according to General Pershing's report. All but one of the aviation squadron are accounted for according to reports received by General Funston. These reports show two other machines temporarily out of commission because of accident.

General Funston has no doubt that in their own way the Carranza troops are co-operating in the pursuit of Villa but between the American forces and the Mexican forces there has been no communication and neither side has knowledge of the details of the other's plans.

General Funston said tonight he had been informed of Herrera's reported revolt and that while there was lacking confirmation, he had taken precautionary steps towards meeting any aggression along the border.

Consul Beltran said tonight he did not believe Herrera was in Chihuahua and that he had been succeeded by General Luis Herrera, commanding two thousand men at Chi-

CHINA DECIDES TO ABANDON MONARCHY

YUAN SHI KAI REJECTS EMPERORSHIP; RESUMES PRESIDENCY

State Department Mandate Says Revolution Shows Demand for Monarchical Form of Government is Not Unanimous.

Peking, Mar. 22.—A state department mandate issued tonight announces the abandonment of the monarchy and resumption of the republic. The mandate says the revolution shows the demand for a monarchical form of government is not unanimous and therefore Yuan Shi Kai rejects the emperorship and resumes the presidency.

The imperial documents, the mandate adds, will be returned by Yuan Shi Kai to the state council, which will reconvene as the senate, preparatory to the resumption of the republic.

Hsu Shih Chang, who left the cabinet because of the monarchical movement signed the mandate as secretary of state, having re-entered the cabinet.

See Hope for Early Peace.

Washington, Mar. 22.—In the downfall of Yuan Shi Kai's plans for making himself emperor, hope is seen in official and diplomatic circles here for early restoration of peace in China and maintenance of the status quo in the far east during the European war. The province of Yunnan rebelling against the overthrow of the republic, for months, has been maintaining its independence of the central government and reports of discontent and revolt have come thick and fast from the southern districts.

In addition to this state of affairs at home Yuan has faced powerful opposition to his plans from the outside. Great Britain, Japan and Russia have exerted pressure to prevent any governmental change at this time.

Yuan had expected to proclaim the monarchy and ascend the throne before beginning of the new year. When the time came however, it was officially stated that there would be no change in the government until the war was over. It was understood the prospect of having China barred from the peace negotiations in which the final disposition of Kiaochow will be determined was an important factor in causing the postponement.

Since Yuan dissolved the assembly he virtually has been exercising the powers of a monarch but in its relations with the outside world, China has not ceased to be a republic.

The United States government has played no part in the diplomatic exchanges at Peking regarding the proposed changes.

The first indictment is against the Cudahy Packing company, John A. McNeughton, manager of the railroad department, and James W. Robb, chief of the claim department. The second indictment is against the Cudahy Packing company, McNeughton, Robb, John E. O'Brien, branch house manager of Philadelphia; Frank Melville, branch house manager at Atlantic City, N. J., and the Chicago and Alton railroad company.

AUGUSTA, GA., HAS $5,000,000 FIRE

Flames Eat Their Way Thru City's Principal Business Section

NASHVILLE HAS BIG FIRE

Ball of Yarn Lighted By Boy and Thrown Into Dry Grass Starts $1,500,000 Blaze

35 RESIDENCE BLOCKS BURN

BULLETIN.
AUGUSTA, Ga., Mar. 22.—The fire which swept part of the business and residence section of Augusta last night and early today (Thursday), causing a loss estimated at nearly $5,000,000 was said to be fully under control at 3:20 o'clock this morning.

A second fire in the southern section of the city caused a loss of $12,000.

Firemen were unable to say when the flames could be controlled but expressed the hope that owing to the smaller buildings now in its path the fire would respond to efforts to quench it.

No lives had been reported lost early today, but several hundred persons were homeless as the flames cut a swath thru from twenty to twenty-five blocks.

The flames started at 6 o'clock last night in a store on Broad street and the high winds that have swept over the southeast fanned it into fury until local fire fighting apparatus was helpless. Several cities responded to calls for aid and rushed fire fighting equipment here about midnight.

Boy Starts $1,500,000 Fire.
Nashville, Tenn., Mar. 22.—A ball of yarn lighted and thrown by a boy into dry grass in a vacant lot, started a conflagration in Nashville at noon today, which was not under control until late this afternoon after thirty-five residence blocks had been swept by the fire. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000.

A twisting, coiling wind driving at fifty miles an hour, fanned the burning grass into a torrent of flames, which quickly caught a planing mill and leaped from building to building until at least six hundred residences had been destroyed, the East Nashville suburb, postoffice burned down, the big Warner Public school and several churches reduced to ruins.

Tonight it is estimated that at least 3,000 persons are homeless as a result of the conflagration. National Guardsmen called out by Governor Rye went on duty in the fire zone late this afternoon and will remain there for several days to aid in relief work and prevent looting.

Midnight the fire apparently was burning itself out. Pitiful scenes were everywhere in evidence tonight. The fire spread with such suddenness that members of many families have been separated. Several men were vainly looking for their wives and parents were seeking their children. It is believed that most of the missing will be located in homes of Nashville residents, where the homeless people were taken after the fire. Thrilling rescues were made. Several women were saved by men who risked their lives by rushing thru the flames.

Eight hundred children were at recitation at Warner school, the second largest grammar school of the city, when the flames leaped into that block. The teachers continued the lessons and not until after sparks had set fire to the window shades and the pupils of the building were the children dismissed. They made their escape safely, but many of them had to pass thru the fire zone in order to get home. Later the school building was burned to the ground.

The home of the Little Sisters of the Poor was burned and most of the inmates are in hospitals, suffering from shock. Two women were seriously burned in escaping from their residences thru the flames. Another was struck on the head by furniture thrown from an upper floor.

Washington, Mar. 22.—President Wilson plans to go to Philadelphia tomorrow to consult an oculist. He will leave here early in the morning and probably return during the afternoon or at night.

STORM IS FOLLOWED BY FALL IN TEMPERATURES

PRECIPITATION AND GALES WIDE-SPREAD IN WAKE OF STORM

Wrecked Buildings and Prostrate Telephone and Telegraph Wires Mark Progress of Storm—Five Are Reported Killed in Indiana.

Chicago, Mar. 22.—The storm which had its origin west of the Mississippi river Tuesday night and concentrated its force in a narrow strip thru eastern Illinois and northwestern Indiana as it travelled swiftly eastward, was followed by a marked fall in temperatures thru-out the storm section tonight.

According to C. L. Mitchell, forecaster at the federal weather bureau here, the precipitation and gales were widespread in the wake of the storm. Thunderstorms and electrical storms were followed in some section by a heavy fall of snow. Forecaster Mitchell said the storm was still travelling eastward. Temperatures will moderate somewhat tomorrow, according to the forecaster.

Wrecked buildings and prostrate telephone and telegraph wires marked the progress of the storm thru Eastern Illinois and Western Indiana where the storm cut a path about fifteen miles wide.

No lives had been reported lost in Illinois, but five persons were reported killed in Indiana. The storm was most severe in the vicinity of Beaverville, Ind., and Otto, Ill., and near Marion and Logan, Ind. These towns were cut off for hours and street car traffic in several of them was at a standstill. In and about Chicago heavy snowfall followed the storm and car service and wire traffic suffered in consequence.

Late tonight Forecaster Mitchell said the indications were that a second storm which originated in the Rocky Mountains was headed in this direction.

No Illinois Casualties Reported.
Danville, Ill., Mar. 22.—No Illinois casualties have so far been reported as a result of the hurricane that last night originated a short distance west of Kankakee and swept southwardly in a path fifteen mile wide thru the state of Indiana, leaving thousands of wrecked farm buildings in its wake.

The village of Beaverville, Iroquois county was hard hit by the wind, a number of buildings being unroofed and other structures being levelled to the ground.

Two fires broke out, during the storm but were confined to the residences which they consumed. Mrs. Theodore Masey had both legs broken and her infant was injured when their home collapsed.

The Big Four station at Beaverville was picked up and deposited upon the railroad track. Near South Hopper and Donovan residences were unroofed and other farm buildings blown to pieces.

At South Hooper, Ind., while a family was absent their home was wrecked. On a bed this morning were found concrete building blocks that evidently were carried some distance. As a parochial school in course of construction at Beaverville, which was wrecked, was the only building made of such material in the direct path of the storm, it is believed they came from there, a distance of four miles.

CHARGES PRIESTS SPREAD GOSPEL OF STRIFE AND INTERVENTION

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 22.—Six Catholic priests who reached Nogales, Ariz., from Hermosillo, Guaymas and other cities in Western Sonora, were deported from Mexico because they have been spreading the gospel of strife and intervention instead of the gospel of God, according to a statement issued late today by General P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, at his temporary headquarters in Agua Prieta, opposite here. "These men were ordered from Mexico only after he had proved beyond any doubt that they had been active in supporting the Cientifico faction," General Calles stated. "They have been urging the ignorant classes in their districts to acts that would lead to intervention in Mexico by the United States."

G. O. P. CONVENTION DEVELOPS SERIES OF FACTIONAL CONTESTS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 22.—Beginning as a love feast with the election of John Fields of Oklahoma City as chairman, the Republican state convention today developed a series of factional contests between the supporters of James A. Harris of Wagoner, and J. J. McGraw of Ponsa City, rival candidates for the position of national committeeman, which after several turbulent hours culminated in the refusal of Harris' friends to present his name to the convention. They announced they would contest the election of national committeeman before the Republican national convention.

GERMANS ADVANCE TOWARD VERDUN

Gain Foothold on Small Hill of Haucourt By Infantry Attack

KEEP UP INTENSE FIRE

French Are Heavily Shelling the Malancourt Wood Which is in the Hands of the Germans

RUSSIANS CAPTURE TRENCHES

Infantry attacks northwest of Verdun, preceded by a vigorous bombardment have enabled the Germans to gain a foothold on the small hill of Haucourt, which lies just outside the village of Malancourt and between that town and the eastern edge of the Malancourt wood.

The entire sector of about two and a half miles from the Avescourt wood to Malancourt has been subjected to a violent artillery bombardment and several German infantry attacks, but except in the immediate vicinity of Malancourt the Germans were held by the French barrier fire and were unable to advance.

Bombardment Still in Progress.
Northeast of Verdun, around Douaumont and Vaux an intense artillery bombardment is still in progress. The infantry forces however, have remained inactive in this district.

From the west in the forest of the Argonne, the French are heavily shelling the Malancourt wood which is in the hands of the Germans and at various points in the forest have bombarded the Germans.

The Russian offensive against the Germans in Northwest Russia has increased in intensity and fighting is in progress day and night. The latest official statement from Russian general headquarters says that desperate infantry fighting is proceeding north of the town of Postav, where the German launched violent counter-attacks in an attempt to dislodge the Russians from trenches which they had previously captured.

Respecting this operation the Berlin communication says that at this point the Russians delivered their attack and their losses reached "extraordinary high figures, even for the number of Russians in action."

Russ Capture Trenches.
The Russians captured three lines of the German trenches on the southwestern shore of Lake Narocz, where, it is officially declared, the fighting is developing in favor of the Russian forces. Here the Russians "despite asphyxiating gases and a murderous fire" forced three lines of wire entanglements and made their gains in a series of fierce hand to hand encounters.

The Russian war office also officially announces the capture of Isphan in Persia after an engagement. An unofficial report received by way of Rome and London says that the Austrians have abandoned Cernowitz, capital of Bukovina.

Bad weather again has broken over the Austro-Italian front, but it has not put a stop to the violent bombardments. The Austrians have delivered surprise attacks with infantry against Italian positions at various points, but these, according to Rome have been repulsed.

ADVANCE DEFENSE PROGRAM

Washington, Mar. 22.—The national defense program was advanced another stage today when the senate passed Senator Chamberlain's bill to double the number of cadets at the West Point Military academy. Only two senators Vardaman and Norris voted against the bill, 59 voting in its favor. If the measure passes the house it will open the way to West Point to enlisted men.

The Health Ordinance.
One is not entitled to serious criticism of the public health ordinance who has not spent several hours in reading and digesting it. In that very fact the chief opposition to the proposed ordinance will be found. It is so voluminous and comprehensive that it might become unwieldy and serve to create a department of health more elaborate than the needs of a city of this size require. On its face the ordinance provides for considerable work to be done and it is not to be expected that all of this work can be cared for without expense. Unless the requirements and possibilities of the ordinance provisions are met, its passage will not mean a great deal, and if they are met certainly considerable expense will be incurred. Possibly the city council has in mind that this expense will be justified and that it can be readily met.

The intent of the ordinance is undoubtedly good, but it is certainly a cause for regret that the needs could not be covered by an ordinance less voluminous.

Ocean Transportation.
In Boston alone, German merchant steamers are interlined with a total capacity of 87,510 tons. This explains a large part of the short-coming as the war is over, these ships, with others interned in other ports of the United States and of other neutral nations, will re-enter the transportation business. The enactment of a government purchase act would not release these ships. Since ship-building yards already have all the orders they can fill within the next two years, government appropriations for the purchase of ships could not increase the quantity of shipping available, but might enable private owners to unload ships upon the government at high prices which would immediately decline when a peace treaty has set the German ships free to re-enter active trade.

Factory Figures.
One of the large western cities recently lost a factory employing four hundred workers. A democratic paper commenting upon this incident says that every man, woman, or child leaving a city for another residence decreases the value of industrial sites $1,000 per capita. This, coming from a democratic

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.
March 23, 1765—Lieutenant Fraser of the British army left Fort Pitt to carry some letters to the French commandant at Fort de Chartres in Illinois and to publish a proclamation to the settlers in the hope of reconciling them to the change from French to British domination.

paper is a surprising argument in favor of a protective tariff law. If the loss of a factory employing 400 workers means a heavy loss to the site value of a city, the building up of American industries under the influence of a protective tariff means a corresponding increase in the site value of every part of the United States. "Land values are to be maintained by providing protection and employment" says a democratic contemporary which is entirely in harmony with the republican view of the effect of a protective tariff.

The Sherman Strength.
That Senator Sherman is regarded as the third strongest candidate now being considered by Republicans for the presidency is the declaration of a staff correspondent of the Chicago Tribune writing from Washington. The Illinois senator is placed next in line after Hughes and Root.

Senator Sherman's course in the senate in a comparatively short time has been such as to give him high place among his colleagues and to attract the notice of the country at large. In recent months his stand on the big questions before the American people have stamped him as a patriotic statesman who thinks in a large way without provincialism or without consideration of self-interests.

The Tribune writer said: "The eastern section of the country is generally understood that Senator Sherman will have the solid delegation from Illinois, the third largest of all, when the first ballot is polled at Chicago. The observers from the east have discovered that this formidable support by no means forms his limit when the second choice business is considered."

FORMER ILLINOIS PROFESSOR SPEAKS ON SANITATION

Dr. A. W. Homberger, formerly head of the department of chemistry at Illinois college and now occupant of the chair of chemistry at Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, characterized sanitation as one of the greatest problems of the present day in a recent lecture at the university.

"Some of the leading universities today," said Dr. Homberger, "are having men of authority lecture on hygienic problems to their students. There are serious municipal problems before every community; problems which are so full of horror that we steer shy of them and are afraid to discuss them in public because we are ashamed to think that our cities allow such social and unsanitary conditions to exist."

"The drink evil is a bad one to the young man, the tobacco habit a most serious problem to the young man's success, but there is a sadder, a more serious, and a graver problem for every young man, one which not only affects him directly, but often transmits itself to those that are to follow."

PROPOSED HEALTH ORDINANCE COVERS MANY SUBJECTS

Document Goes Into Detail For Establishing Extensive Health Department.

The proposed health ordinance is so voluminous that it is impossible to give a very clear idea of all the provisions in a brief newspaper article. It creates a health department, to be under the jurisdiction of the commissioner of public health and safety. In addition to the commissioner the department shall include a health officer and the following divisions: Clerical service, medical and sanitary inspection service, food inspection service, and such other divisions as the city council may deem necessary to create from time to time. The health department is to have general supervision of the health of the inhabitants of the city, with full power to make such rules and regulations and to take such steps and employ such measures as are necessary to promote the cleanliness of the city and the health of the inhabitants. The board has full power with reference to the prevention and restriction of communicable disease. The department is not to contract any obligations or expend any money beyond the amount appropriated for its work by the city council. The health officer must be a regular licensed physician and shall devote as much of his time as is deemed necessary by the commissioner of public health and safety and his salary shall be $300 a year.

The clerical service of the department is to be performed by the city clerk, who shall be a deputy registrar of births and deaths. Medical and sanitary inspection service shall be done by the health officer. The chief of police shall be the quarantine inspector and disinfecter. Additional employees may be engaged from time to time when authorized by the council. The health officer when he deems it necessary shall make inspection of milk, milk products, meats, vegetables, and other food stuffs sold or offered for sale; shall inspect milk depots, creameries, slaughter houses, bakeries, restaurants, fruit stores, groceries, etc.

Provisions are made for the report of cases of contagious diseases by physicians and the proper placarding. Rules of quarantine and disinfection are outlined. One section makes strict requirements for the sale of milk. Under the head of sanitation provision is made for the inspection of hotels, lodging houses, theatres, public halls, lodge rooms and such buildings, and the toilet requirements are also outlined. Provision is made for requiring cleanly conditions about barns and it is provided that every person who owns one or more cows must provide at least 400 square feet of outdoor space for each cow, and if hogs are kept, at least 100 square feet of outdoor space for each hog. It is provided that no hogs shall be kept inside that portion of the city bounded by Webster avenue on the west, Independence avenue on the north, Illinois avenue on the east and Morton avenue on the south.

Strict requirements are outlined with reference to garbage disposal, and the ordinance makes it unlawful to deposit garbage, suds, vegetables or refuse matter of any kind in the streets.

Another section makes spitting in public places an offense against the law, and one section makes it unlawful to permit unnecessary dense smoke coming from any place of business. The law provides for the cutting of weeds and prohibits the sale of second hand goods unless disinfected. The free distribution of drugs and medicines is prohibited and the same is true with reference to all offensive medical literature.

Article 5 deals with nuisances and fourteen paragraphs are utilized to cover this subject. Article 6 relates to births and deaths and prescribes the form of report which must be made to the city clerk with reference to birth certificates, burial permits and cemetery removals.

Why Batteries Don't Last Forever

After repeated inquiries as to what the life of a storage battery should be, the subject has been covered in brief by the Willard Storage Battery Company of Cleveland. They contend first of all that its life depends upon its construction, its care and the service it receives.

"Take all together, a storage battery well-cared for costs less to maintain than any other accessory as vital. If kept charged at proper rate and filled with pure water, the life of a first-class battery averages from 1 1/2 years up.

"At the same time, a battery, however well made and well cared for, will wear out and must be renewed. It is an electro-chemical apparatus constantly changing its condition to supply current for lamps and starter. The better the materials, care and factory service, the longer its life. Some motorists believe a battery should last indefinitely like a spring or an axle, but this belief is being overcome by the educational measures of progressive manufacturers who want their customers to know why certain facts are facts."

The Willard Company has done much along these lines and the result is evident in the better care batteries are receiving everywhere.

Tuesday and Wednesday at Winchester Christian church in charge of the Woman's club, the unpleasant weather on the second day kept down the entries in the third class. A play by twenty-five children, "The Thief of Thistle-down," and a lecture by Dr. Josephine Milligan of Jacksonville were principal features of the baby welfare meeting Wednesday night.

Dr. George T. Palmer of Springfield was not present on account of illness in his family. Following are the four winners of the contest:

"Wired for Electric Service" or

"How the Landlord Rented His House"

An Eye-Opening Electric Feature!

That house had remained idle for a long time; outwardly it was a good looking house, too. But it "just wouldn't rent." It was advertised in the papers; there were "for rent" signs in the yard and in the windows of the house. There were inquiries, but almost the first question asked was, "Has it electricity?"

For a long time that landlord couldn't be made to believe that an otherwise good house could not be rented, and stay rented, because it wasn't wired. Now this landlord had a wife, a right competent little person, who understood these things from a housekeeper's viewpoint, who said to him one night, "John, I know that idle house will rent quick, to a good family, if you'll just invest the small amount necessary to wire it." After a little discussion John Landlord remarked, "I'll do it tomorrow."

Early on the morrow he 'phoned to Mr. McLaren, of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., asking him to call and bring his "plans." An order was given to "wire that house, and please wire it quick." As soon as the work was completed, the landlord inserted another "for rent" ad, making prominent the words

"Wired Properly for Electric Lights and Electric Appliances"

That house rented the day following appearance of ad

ed in active command of the troops more than a month ago by General Luis Gutierrez.

Consul Beltran Denies Report. Samuel Beltran, consul here for Carranza denied tonight that General Herrera had revolted at Chihuahua and gave out the following message which he said he received at 10:15 p. m. from Consul Andreas Garcia at El Paso.

"You are authorized to deny emphatically this story about General Luis Herrera revolting. He actively pushing the campaign against Villa and is entirely in accord with the constitutional government. Part of the troops under Colonel Canse had a fight with bandits led by Villa personally night, before last. Results of the battle not yet known because of the wires being down, but have been repaired between Juarez and Madera. Have been full particulars of the battle. General Herrera is leading the fight against Villa."

Apprehensive Regarding Outcome

Washington, Mar. 22.—Grave apprehension regarding the outcome of the American expedition into Mexico in pursuit of Villa was evident for the first time in Washington tonight after receipt by the war department of a despatch from General Funston saying a report had reached him that 2,000 Carranza troops at Chihuahua under General Luis Herrera had revolted and aligned themselves with the bandit chief.

General Funston did not disclose the source of his information and so far as could be learned no confirmation had reached the state department or the Mexican embassy. Fear that the report might be true was not disguised in official circles, and tonight's developments were awaited with tense anxiety.

ZELL'S GROCERY

If Herrera and his troops have joined Villa, some officials believe other Carranza commanders and troops may quickly follow their example. In such an event, the United States and the de facto government of Mexico would find themselves confronted with a situation so serious that its possibilities hardly could be estimated. A large part of the forces of the de facto government in northern Mexico formerly were Villa soldiers and with their officers have followed the bandit chieftain to many hard fought victories.

Herrera's Troops Well Equipped.

The troops under Herrera are described here as being probably the best equipped in northern Mexico and they are said to be well supplied with ammunition. Luis Herrera at one time was one of Villa's most active aides as well as his brother, Maclovio, before his death. Rumors concerning the doubtful intentions of the Arrieta brothers leading a force in Durango, also have tended to increase disquiet here.

Rebellion in Carranza's army would render the position of the American expedition forces so perilous that every available soldier would be rushed in to reinforce the advancing columns. For this purpose not more than about 15,000 men would be available without calling out the national guard.

There are now on the border or in Mexico, in the neighborhood of 25,000 soldiers and in the whole of the continental United States the other mobile forces number only a little more than 5,000.

Send Reports to White House.

All reports from the border were sent to the white house tonight and were the subject of a long conference during the evening between President Wilson and Secretary Baker. Afterwards Mr. Baker declined to talk.

Before the Funston report arrived, Counsellor Polk, of the state department, and Eliseo Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate, had completed the draft of the protocol asked for by General Carranza to govern the operations of the American forces in Mexico and provide for co-operation by the troops of the de facto government.

Mr. Polk and Mr. Arredondo were in entire accord on the terms of the proposed convention and the latter despatched it to General Carranza with the recommendation that it is to become effective immediately upon being signed.

Silence Gives Force to Reports.

El Paso, Texas, Mar. 22.—The silence which for two days has enveloped the Mexican situation so far as definite news of the pursuit of Francisco Villa is concerned, gave fresh force today to the numerous reports from various sources of grave disaffection among the Carranza troops.

On the border, at least, it is firmly believed that the soldiers of the first chief are not giving real co-operation to the American expeditionary force. It is admitted that General Carranza and some of his lieutenants are sincerely anxious to avoid friction with the United States but it is not believed the head of the de facto government represents the attitude or sentiments of his army or fellow citizens. From several different sources a circumstantial report was received today that the garrison at Chihuahua—supposed to number 2,000 men—had revolted and that their commander, General Luis Herrera had declared in favor of Villa.

Garcia Grants Report False.

Andreas Garcia the Carranza consul here emphatically branded this report as false but in high official circles here it was accepted as at least possible in view of the fact that more than half of the Mexican troops at Chihuahua were former Villa adherents.

Since yesterday morning General Gaviola at Juarez has claimed that the wires along the Mexican Northwestern railroad between Juarez and Casas Grandes have been cut and that consequently he could give no information in regard to the reported battle at Naniquipa between the Carranzistas and Villa bandits.

Americans here, especially refugees from Mexico are frankly skeptical both as to the reported battle and the cut wires. They point out that severed communications is one of the most familiar ruses used by Mexican officials when they wish to withhold information and that it is strange that the wires to Casas Grandes, a distance of only 130 miles and along a railroad could not be repaired in two days time.

That General Pershing and some of his forces are close to Naniquipa seems reasonably certain and if the bandit had received a serious check at the hands of the Carranzistas a clash between his followers and the Americans should be imminent. The fact that a Carranza victory undoubtedly would have been most certainly heralded widely by this time, instead of suppressed, adds force to the contentions of the skeptics.

Interest in Railroad Situation.

Whatever is the real situation in the section of the Sierra Madre, where Americans, Carranzistas and Villa's men are operating, the main interest here lies in the railroad situation. Even before the American government requested General Carranza to permit the use of the Mexican railroads for the transportation of supplies ominous rumors reached here that General Funston was experiencing serious difficulty in forwarding supplies to General Pershing's columns.

Arrivals from Columbus today reported that transportation service across the desert was being badly hampered by sand storms. There are no roads except those which the American engineers have been able to improvise and these are said to be cut to pieces by the transport wagons.

Pershing Alive to Situation.

An American mining man who has lived for 25 years in Chihuahua declared today that it would be little less than a miracle if the American army staff was able to send the needed supplies or the necessary men a distance of 200 miles for any period of time. That General Pershing is fully alive to this situation is evinced by the elaborate arrangements being made here for using the Mexican Northwestern and if Carranza grants the needed permission, conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen, most of whom have seen service on the Mexican National Railways have been listed for service.

One of the most popular reports here today was that Villa spies ranging in numbers from three to sixteen were shot in Juarez this morning. It was pronounced a canard by General Gaviola, the commandant and by Consul Garcia, who declared that no spies had been arrested and that no criminals were under sentence of death.

MRS. ANNIS MONROE CLEMENS IS MYSTEROUSLY SHOT

Woman is Killed While Sitting in an Automobile—Husband Was Partly Under Car When Shot Was Fired.

Chicago, Mar. 22.—Mrs. Annis Monroe Clemens was killed by a bullet from an automatic pistol as she sat in an automobile today. With her husband she had been out for an airing when something went wrong with the machine. Clemens was partly under the car when the shot was fired and crawled out to find his wife dead.

Friends of Mrs. Clemens say the shooting was accidental, while the police assert a belief that the woman shot herself. At the same time the husband, Austin A. Clemens is being detained at the Woodlawn police station. He said the pistol was carried in the machine as a protection and that his wife had been despondent since the loss of their child some months ago.

Mrs. Clemens inherited $182,000 from her father, James B. Monroe, a lawyer. Her marriage to Clemens, several years ago resulted in her being virtually cut off from all intercourse with her family.

Mrs. Clemens was well known to a number of Jacksonville people.

Wilson McPhail of Timewell, Ill., a nephew of Mrs. Mary McPhail, 403 West College street, is fighting with the British army in Egypt, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McPhail of Timewell.

"He left Timewell about three years ago and has wandered around the world, finally locating at Wellington, New Zealand, where he married the day after his twenty-first birthday, says the Timewell correspondent of the Quincy Journal.

"His parents have just received a letter from him, dated February 27. Bluffs, Mar. 22.—The leading social event of the week was the annual open meeting of the Woman's Club, which was held at Lewis' opera house Tuesday night. Seventeen members and thirty seven invited guests were present. The house was tastefully decorated in the club colors of red and white and each table had a lovely bouquet of red carnations and red roses. A piano duet was given by Mrs. E. L. Kendall and Mrs. Harry Corbridge. This was followed by vocal duet by Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. Ruth Green.

The paper was followed by a vocal quartet number by Mrs. G. W. Reese, Mrs. S. Halpin, Mrs. H. Corbridge and Mrs. Ruth Green. A short play of one act entitled "Not a Man Here!" given by Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Orion Woodson, Mrs. Ruth Green, Mrs. Frank Lyons and Mrs. G. W. Reese closed the evening's program. The play was spicily full of fun and reflected much credit upon the ladies who gave it. Covers were laid for fifty four and a dainty three course luncheon was served, the first course being a grape fruit cocktail; the second course consisted of potato salad, creamed peas, sliced ham, olives, tea rolls and coffee. The third course, a chocolate fruit pudding served with angel food cake.

Mrs. Meehan acted as toast master and the following, Rev. H. C. Smith, Mrs. J. C. Lewis, Mr. Thomas Meehan, Prof. Thompson and Miss Robinson responded with toasts appropriate to the occasion. At 1 o'clock the merry makers departed for their homes feeling that it was a rare privilege to have been present on that occasion.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

Dr. William Jayne

By Ensley Moore.

Member Illinois State Historical Society.

It may seem strange to tell of Dr. Jayne under this heading.

But he had so much to do with Jacksonville, and Jacksonville did so much for him, in giving him his collegiate education and his wife, that Springfield alone cannot claim him.

The general statements of his history have told of Gov. Jayne's birth in Springfield, in 1826; of his being four times mayor of his native place; of his being state senator from the district including Morgan as well as Sangamon; of Grant appointing him pension agent; of Gov. Oglesby making him a commissioner to complete the state capitol; of his fellow citizens making him their representative in local offices; of his dying in office of the Public Library, that the younger Gov. Yates had family relationships; distinguished enough to make him feel so by association. As has been said, he came down from an English family, which entered America in the seventeenth century, and his father was one of the earliest settlers in Illinois. But Dr. Jayne was a brother-in-law of Judge Lyman Trumbull twenty four years United States senator from Illinois—Trumbull having married Jayne's sister. By his own marriage to Miss Wetherbee, Dr. Jayne became an uncle to the wife of the present Richard Yates—whose mother was a Wetherbee. It was in the old Wetherbee house—since owned by the Rev. Dr. Glover, and now owned by Mrs. James C. Fairbank—that Jayne was married to Julia Wetherbee, in October, 1859. But his relationship to prominent people did not end there, for the son of Dr. and Mrs. Jayne married the daughter of General and U. S. Senator John M. Palmer, and thru that line Jayne's name comes down.

Of course Gov. Jayne was an intimate acquaintance of the great War Governor Yates, and of all the Republican chief executives down to the benign reign of the present governor, Judge Dunne.

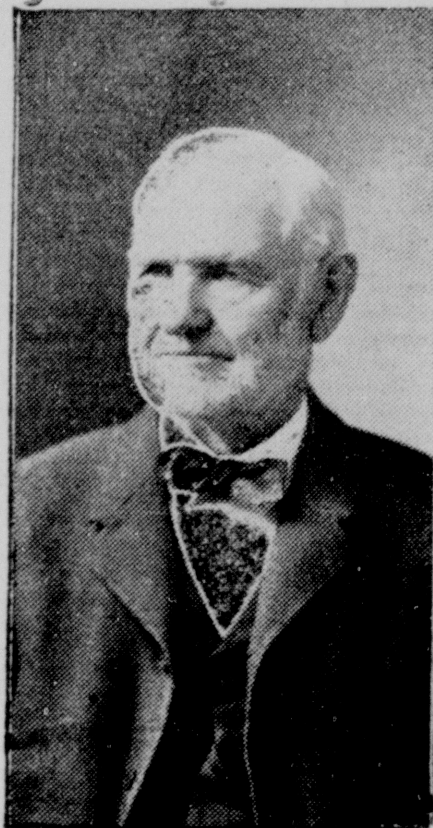

His life in the West was one remarkable among his other experiences. He told me that, as Governor of Dakota, he ruled over forty thousand Indians, and three thousand whites. His domain included an area of four hundred thousand square miles. And then he was a Delegate in Congress from that almost boundless bailiwick.

I first met Gov. Jayne many years ago, when he probably thought I was too young to notice. In 1901, Gov. Yates appointed us members of the State Board of Charities, and for four years we were intimately thrown together, and often travelled together over the prairies of our native state.

In an article in this series, last summer, entitled "A Pioneer Girl," I said: "Many, many years after, riding up from the region where Kaskaskia had looked across the river to the little girl's birth-place, the old man whom they called Governor threw back his head in characteristic pose, closed his eyes, and brought out to his younger fellow traveller the story of the little girl whom the Governor had known as a beautiful young woman."

It was Jayne whom we called Governor, the beautiful girl was Eunice Conn, and the writer was the fellow traveller of the great old man.

Dr. Jayne could tell many a story of the great men or winsome women made him President of the State Board of Commissioners of Public Charities, and the great Lincoln had made him governor of all the Dakotas.

But this was only a part of the means whereby this "Grand Old Man" had honored himself and his family and his day.

We, here in Jacksonville knew how, after being graduated from Illinois College, in the class of 1847, he had married Julia Wetherbee of the class of 1847, at Jacksonville Female Academy, and they two had dwelt happily together for over a quarter of the century.

Nor can even a "Sis" forget that William Jayne had been a founder and first President, of Phi Alpha Society of Illinois College.

It is very doubtful if—last week—there was a man in all the United States who had known, and been associated with, and been so prominent himself, among the greatest men of the land as William Jayne. And yet, while proud of his distinction, he was as modest in manner as a girl.

One could not run over the list of his acquaintances without naming the majority of the greatest Americans in public life for the last sixty years.

But a point largely overlooked in the general notices was Gov. Jayne's he had known, and no doubt Dr. Glenn of Ashland and Mr. A. S. Wright of Woodstock and the Rev. Edward A. Kelly of Chicago felt as honored as did the Secretary of the Board, Col. J. Mack Tanner, and I in our association with "the man who had known Lincoln."

Dr. Jayne was a rarely genial man, and he knew men and things as the men "who have been over the road" of life come to be wise.

His mind was clear and his foot quick; nor was his eye dim, for he never had recourse to spectacles.

As President of the Board of Charities Dr. Jayne was one of the able, educated, experienced, qualified men fitted for such a place, and Illinois was fortunate in having the loyal service of her loving son.

And yesterday they laid all of William Jayne that was mortal in the grave.

COURT IN PRIVATE CAR, JOURNEYS TO WASHINGTON
Los Angeles, Mar. 23.—U. S. District Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, accompanied by the court officers, the government's prosecutor and the attorneys for the defence, will cross the country in a private car and complete in Washington the government's suit to recover extensive oil lands declared to have been fraudulently obtained by the Southern Pacific railroad. Judge Bledsoe is clearing up his docket here this week, and the court will then undertake the long trip to the capital of the country.

The special car is furnished by the Southern Pacific, and everything that can contribute to the comfort of the party on its long trip will be provided. Judge Bledsoe and his attendants will have good company in special prosecutor E. M. Justice and C. A. Lewers, chief counsel for the Southern Pacific. Oil lands, courts, railroads and other things that have to do with the celebrated case will be taboed until Washington is reached.

The fact that most of the witnesses to be called are the United States Senators and other officials in Washington is the principal reason for the trip of the court. It is also desired to give officials of the several government departments concerned an opportunity to hear the case.

The Parents-Teachers' meeting of the Washington school has been postponed from today until a week from today, Thursday, March 30, on account of the death of Mrs. Hopner's sister, Mrs. Teale.

MEN AND WOMEN

"Women are always weeping about something," said the assessor, "and if they knew how tough it makes them look, I believe they would cut it out."

"I envy women their ability to weep," remarked the druggist. "Whenever anything unpleasant happens at our house, my wife sits down and covers her face with her apron and sheds a bowl of briny tears, and then she gets up, refreshed and invigorated, and goes about her work as tho' nothing had happened. It is a blessed relief. A man isn't gifted with a safety valve of that sort."

"I suppose men could cry as well as women if they cultivated the habit, and I have no doubt that they used to weep long ago, when nature cut more ice than the conventions. But no man would have the nerve to weep now, unless he locked himself in his woodshed, where nobody could see him. If a man is found shedding tears, no matter how grievous the cause, he is ostracized by his fellows. Even a boy is ridiculed and despised for crying."

"We men have to repress our emotions and try to go around with our heads bloody but unbowed. It would be better for all of us if we could sit down and howl when things go wrong. This morning, when we were seated at the breakfast table, the hired girl came up, with a Lady Macbeth look on her face, and said she was going to quit right there. She had just heard that my wife had been discussing her unfavorably at a neighbor's house, and she wouldn't consider any compromise. She wouldn't stay in a house where she wasn't appreciated."

"We have had a painful time with hired girls for a year. We have tried one after another, and all of them had ivory domes. This last one was the best of the lot, and was improving every day, and we hoped that she would develop into a little sunbeam. So her resignation was a considerable shock to my wife, who wept copiously for five minutes. Then she got up, a glances refreshed, and said there are as good fish in the sea as ever came out of it, and she would look around for another girl. That cry braced her up and renewed her courage."

"I have had great trouble trying to secure a clerk with human intelligence. I have hired and fired a dozen different men in the past three weeks, and each one was worse than all the rest combined. I fired one today for giving one of my good customers arsenic, when he asked for salitiz powders. My experience has ruined my temper, and I feel like the original bear with the sore head. Every once in a while I throw my hat on the floor and dance on it, but this doesn't afford much relief."

"If I could only sit down for ten minutes, behind the prescription case, and weep like Rachel for her children, I feel sure that I could bear my burden patiently for a while."

MRS. MATILDA HOOK DIED AT OUR SAVIOR'S HOSPITAL

Deceased One of the Oldest Residents of Jacksonville—First to Hold Position as Public Librarian.

Mrs. Matilda Vanderhoof Hook died at Our Savior's hospital at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Death came as a result of a stroke of paralysis, which came about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Hook was over 92 years of age at the time of death and had been a resident of Jacksonville for more than sixty years. She was a woman of fine disposition and temperament and her life was closely connected with the life and growth of the city. She was born in Freehold, N. J., September 29, 1823. She came to this city as a young woman and lived with her aunt, Miss Eberhart, who was the proprietor of a millinery store in a building which stood on the present site of the Jacksonville National Bank building.

On October 20, 1863, she was united in marriage to J. Washington Hook. Mr. Hook was an uncle of William S. Marcus, T. J. and Miss Fannie Hook and a brother of Cornelius Hook, who was a prominent merchant of the city in the early days. To this union one child was born, which died in 1872 at the age of six months.

A fact not generally known to the younger generation, and it seems to but few of the older residents, was that Mrs. Hook was the first librarian of the city public library. In the early '70's the agitation first started in the middle west for the establishment of a public library. The idea originated in Ohio and the women of the city took the initiative, and the result was the establishment of the first public library in Jacksonville. The library was first placed in the I. O. O. F. hall and later removed to the Y. M. C. A. building. Mrs. Hook was the first librarian appointed and held the position for a number of years.

For five years Mrs. Hook lived with the family of Thomas C. Ireland. Later she removed to the old Berdan property on West State street where she had rooms for many years. For the past four years she has been at Our Savior's hospital.

Mrs. Hook was a member of Trinity church and funeral services will be held from the church at 2 o'clock this afternoon in charge of the Rev. J. F. Langton, with interment in Diamond Grove cemetery.

DOCTORS USING AMOLOX WITH GREAT SUCCESS

This remarkable letter, coming from a prominent physician engaged in active practice for over 25 years, proves the merit of this wonderful new remedy.

I have used Amolox in four different cases with excellent results. All showed marked improvement from the start. Two apparently are cured, the skin being free from scales and redness, and perfectly normal.

I consider Amolox a Remedy of rare merit. I know of nothing in the modern text-books that equals it in therapeutic value.

H. R. Hills, M. D., Youngstown, Ohio.

Pimples on the face, Blackheads, Acne and all minor skin troubles yield quickly to the use of the Amolox Ointment. Sufferers of Eczema, Psoriasis, Tetter, Salt Rheum, and bad chronic cases of skin diseases lasting for years, should use both the Ointment and Solution to effect a cure. Trial size, 50c. Guaranteed and recommended by Coover & Shreve. Adv.

QUICK, SAFE WAY TO REMOVE HAIRS

(Toilet Talks)

Keep a little delatone powder on your dressing table and when ugly, hairy growths appear, make a paste with a little of the powder and some water, apply and let remain on the hairy surface for 2 or 3 minutes, then rub off, wash the skin and the hairs have vanished. This treatment is quite harmless and rarely more than one application is required, but to avoid disappointment care should be used to buy the real delatone. Adv.

TREES AND SHRUBS YOU SHOULD BUY FOR LAWNS

Mr. Allison of Department of Horticulture Gives Instructions for Beautifying.

Would you improve the beauty of your lawn? It can be done easily and simply, and will mean much to you when the work has been accomplished. I. D. Allison of the department of horticulture, University of Illinois submits the following points to remember on what and how to buy trees and shrubs for planting about the home grounds.

TREES: Plant trees on the border of the lawn for shade, to enframe the house, along the street for parkway effect, and on the property line to screen your neighbor's yard or to give privacy to your own. Avoid planting too closely and in straight lines. Some trees are never used except where a botanical collection is desired, as their ornamental value is small compared with the host of other trees obtainable. The carolina poplar, box elder, and soft maple are too poor for ordinary use. Tea's weeping mulberry, Camperdown elm, weeping beech, Catalpa bungei, etc., are freak trees and out of place on the lawn. Small trees as the red bud, dogwood, flowering crabapple, Hawthorn and plums, used in groups of two or three in connection with shrubs are valuable for screening, for forming a transition between large trees and shrubs, and for breaking the monotony in the shrub border.

Trees are usually sold by their height, up to ten feet; taller ones by the diameter of the trunk near the base. It usually pays to buy a tree of at least 1-2 to 2 inches in diameter, four feet from the ground.

SHRUBS: Where to Plant. Keep the lawn open. Do not scatter flower beds or shrubs about promiscuously. Plant shrubs about the foundation of the house, the angles of the walks and the borders of the lawn. Use the more refined growing plants about the house and the coarser ones at the borders where they are seen at a greater distance. Use the growing shrubs at the corners of the house and porch and for accent in the wider parts of the border beds.

Plant high growing species back of low growing ones. Before buying or planting be sure you understand the ultimate height to which they will grow. This cannot always be judged from the size of the plants when they arrive from the nursery, for the tall growing may be smaller stock than the lower growing species. In planting close to walks and drive, use compact growing species or else do not plant shrubs in straight line but feel from the walk or drive. Do not plant shrubs as specimens or individual plants but use several plants in a bed to secure a massed effect. Do not plant shrubs in a straight line, but place the plants irregularly so as to avoid a lined-up appearance. The side of the planting bed next the lawn should present a pleasantly curved outline.

ORDERING: Study the habits or nature of the plants you intend to buy. Order definite varieties and specify the size of plant you want. Secure the nursery's trade price list and note the price is quoted for quantities of 10 and 100. Five plants of a given variety may be purchased at the ten rate and twenty-five of one variety at the 100 rate. The price should generally not exceed 18 to 25 cents each for shrubs, depending upon the size ordered and the variety. Buy direct from a reliable nursery firm. It is unwise to buy of agents; one firm in Illinois frankly states that their agents sell as high as 60 per cent above their regular catalog price. Note whether the prices quoted in catalogs include packing and cost of shipping. Do not order all one kind, nor is it wise to order more than twelve or fifteen varieties. Be sure to note the tag on each variety, as this is the only way you have of identifying it. Do not allow substitution of other varieties in your order unless it is acceptable and authorized by you in writing.

WILLARD WISHES PREPARATION FOR BOUT, EXCEPT FOR LIGHT WORK

Champion is Unusually Lively on His Feet—Shadow Boxing Draws Cheers from Fans.

New York, Mar. 22.—When Jess Willard finished his regular training today his Manager Tom Jones, announced that with the exception of some light work tomorrow the big champion has completed his preparations for Saturday's bout with Frank Moran.

Willard was unusually lively on his feet today. His shadow boxing drew cheers from a big gathering of boxing fans which filled the entire floor and galleries of the Pioneer Club's arena.

Willard took on his three sparring partners for two rounds each. While his defense is still faulty, Willard looks and moves like a thoroughly trained athlete and there is no "question as to his almost perfect condition and his ability to inflict punishment."

Moran ran around in the snow and sleet for a couple of miles in the morning and confined his boxing to a single round with each of his three training partners. He is on edge ready for the bout and to all inquiries he reiterates his confidence in his ability to beat the champion. Moran's coolness and firm belief that he is going to win make a favorable impression on everyone who sees and greets him. With more than 85 per cent of the eleven thousand and odd tickets sold, it is becoming more evident every hour that the contest will be witnessed by the most representative assembly of boxing enthusiasts who ever gathered about a squared circle in this country.

Miss Grace Thompson of Rochester, N. Y., is expected in the city today for a visit with Miss Carrie Spores. Miss Thompson, who has been in Pittsfield for a visit with home folk, was several years ago a student here at Brown's college.

Some Topics of the FarmFAST NUMBER OF WEEDS SHOWN
BY STUDY AND INVESTIGATION

Records kept by John C. Andras
Indicate Great Total of Varieties
—Department of Agriculture Reports Give Facts of Value to Farmers.

A weed is a plant out of place. A weed may be either a native or an introduced or adventive plant out of place. Many of our most noxious weeds have been introduced from the Old World and during recent years the Western and Southern parts of America have been adding to our already large list of weed pests. It is of paramount importance that all farm seeds imported into the community be free from weed seeds and that our native birds which are the husbandman's chief ally in destroying weed seeds and injurious insects be protected.

There are 200,000 known species of plants. In that section of America extending from the west line of Kansas to the Atlantic and from the south line of Kentucky to Labrador there are about 5000 species of native and adventive plants exclusive of the lower orders. In 1846, Mr. John C. Andras, of Manchester, collected in his home township 1500 species of plants. Cultivation and clearing has probably wiped out four-fifths of the native plants. It is estimated that there are now in this community about 80 species of which more than half have been introduced.

The year book of the department of agriculture for 1895 carries a list of 200 noxious weeds, 108 of which have been introduced. The plants of Ohio number 2060 and 420 of them are foreigners, 326 came from Europe, 30 from Asia, 2 from Africa, 46 from Southern and western United States and 21 from tropical America.

Before the advent of man the chief factors in weed migration were the wind, the water, birds and small mammals. Commerce and the quest for new lands have distributed many species far and wide. Today the railroads are among the greatest artificial means of spreading weeds. Hauling as they do animals and forage from one end of the country to the other they scatter seeds everywhere along their right-of-way. Straw used for packing is another prolific source of foreign weed seeds. Some of our worst weeds have been introduced originally as ornamental plants as the wild carrot. Barnyard manure and unground feed stuffs frequently disseminate weed seeds. A most prolific source of new weeds is the adulteration of farm and garden seeds. Few realize the importance of sowing only clean seeds. An examination of 122 samples of clover seed in 1908 by the Michigan agricultural college disclosed 47 kinds of weed seeds. One sample of so-called clover seed contained 40 per cent buckhorn. In 1910 the same college examined 450 samples of clover, grass, and alfalfa seed and found large numbers of seeds of well known weeds and 74 kinds of seeds not known to the expert. Screening made up of dead seeds and weed seeds are used to adulterate clover and alfalfa seed. Grades of seeds which are grown in Europe and cannot be sold there because of their inferiority and adulteration as well as screening are imported into this country, and sold to our farmers. Some plants produce enormous quantities of seed. A purslane can ripen a million and a quarter seeds. Wild carrot, buckhorn and sow thistle produce 2000 or more seeds to a plant. It is estimated that a horseweed produced 324,000 seeds, a lamb's quarter 115,000, a Jimson 90,000 and a wild mustard 10,000. The free distribution of seeds by our generous congressmen seems like a mere incident when compared with the wholesale distribution of Dame Nature. When we consider the amount of seed produced, we can readily see why weeds spread even if only one seed in a hundred grows.

Some seeds possess a marvellous vitality. By actual test seeds of shepherd's purse, purslane, mustard, smartweed, etc., have been known to germinate after being buried in the ground for thirty years. As an example of the rapid spread of weeds we have the wild lettuce. This plant was first observed in Illinois in 1879 now covers the state. The farmers' greatest enemies are weeds and insects. As the material prosperity of the nation depends upon its agriculture any agent that serves to increase the crops is of direct interest to all of United States. Birds are often almost valuable of these agents, as they depend largely for their food upon seeds and insects. It is estimated that insects cause a loss of $700,000,000.00 annually in the United States. Birds are often accused of destroying fruit and cultivated grains when they are not guilty or if guilty only in a small measure. On account of the unreliability of field observations of the food habits of birds, the Biological Survey of the Department of Agriculture has examined the stomachs of more than 5000 birds during the last 25 years. It found 72,000 weed seeds in the stomach of a wild duck taken in Louisiana. One third of the robin's food is noxious insects and the balance largely wild fruits, berries, etc. Only 8 per cent of its food being cultivated fruit. The blue bird and house wren live almost entirely on noxious insects and weed seeds and neither does any harm. The brown thrush lives mostly on insects and wild fruits and seeds. In the retreat of one pair of barn owls were found the skulls of 3000 mice and rats. The screech owl lives on mice and injurious insects. The cat bird reported at times as being destructive prefers wild to cultivated fruit and 44 per cent of its food is insect. The tit-mice, swallow martins, chick-dees, juncos, native sparrow and flycatchers live almost entirely on insects and weed seeds. The king bird or bee martin is charged with destroying honey bees. Yet the examination of 634 stomachs disclosed only 61 bees in 22 stomachs and 51 of these were drones. In fact its food is made up largely of insects that destroy honey bees and it is actually a benefit to the bee keeper. It is a most beneficial bird.

The woodpeckers are the guardians of our forests. The sapsucker probably does a little damage. All of them subsist almost entirely upon insects injurious to trees. And investigation shows that woodpeckers seldom injure a healthy tree. We would probably have few forest or fruit trees were the woodpeckers all destroyed. The flicker or yellow hammer is the great ant destroyer. The examination of 684 flicker's stomachs showed ants in 524. One stomach had 5000 and two had 3000 ants. Rose breasted grosbeaks, orioles and the rain crows devour insects that few other birds eat. They are most valuable insect destroyers. The dove lives almost entirely on weed seeds. A dove's stomach showed 7500 miscellaneous weed seeds. The quail is the most valuable weed destroyer on the farm. Its habits keep it on the ground and it addition to its vegetable diet feeds upon noxious insects. Prof. Forbes found the stomach of one quail filled with chinch bugs. The meadow lark's food is 74 per cent noxious insects the balance of its food is weed seeds and waste grain. It is a great forager and of great economic value. Even the blackbirds and crows have many redeeming qualities and authorities differ as to whether they are more injurious than beneficial.

Some counts have been made of weed growth. In Iowa in 1903 the weeds on one square rod of ground were counted. There were 136,000 foxtails, 40,324 smartweeds, 3,060 mustards, 476 beggar ticks, 204 wild lettuce, 349 lamb's quarters, 7,412 horseweeds, and 62 dandelions a total of 187,878, and at this rate the weeds germinating on an acre would total 30,669,480.

With the increased value of farm lands and the practice of more intensive farming and the continual introduction of new weed pests, the weed problem is becoming more and more serious. To prevent and control weeds a knowledge of their nature is required. Weed selection requires individual and community effort.

They may be controlled by the practice of good rotation, the use of clean seeds, the prevention of their introduction and of their seedling, the destruction of such perennials as Canada thistle and the protection of our native birds.

Hard work and plenty of it will control weeds but hard work and much less of it applied intelligently with a knowledge of the habits of the weeds will more effectually eradicate them hence the importance of a knowledge of the habits of the weeds.

A COURT DECISION.

Who is responsible for the loss of hogs following the use of bad serum? A case was decided in Council Bluffs, Iowa last week that is of interest. A veterinarian, for himself and others, sued a serum company for damages resulting from the use of serum produced in East Omaha and shown, on state test, to be below state requirements. After a long fight the jury granted the verdict. The trial was difficult, being complicated by interstate commerce rules, state inspection laws, etc., and lasted over three weeks. If an appeal is taken and the decision stands in the higher courts the precedent thus established will add much to the protection of farmers and to the carefulness of serum manufacturers. In fairness, it should be said that most serum companies are now taking every precaution to see that their products are pure and of required potency. —The Farmers' Review, Chicago.

CHICAGO & ALTON OFFICIALS CON-FER WITH MURRAYVILLE PEOPLE

Railroad Men Give Courteous Attention to Request of Village Residents for Better Station Facilities—Hopeful That Changes Will Come.

Chicago & Alton officials were in Murrayville Wednesday to confer with a committee of the Business Men's association there relative to better station facilities. It is very much hoped that as a result of the conference that the needed changes will be made.

As previously mentioned in the Journal, the Business Men's association of Murrayville, at its regular meeting in January discussed the question of a need of a new depot at Murrayville. In accordance with the sentiment of the meeting a committee of three was appointed to take up the matter with the officials of the road. The committee drafted a letter embodying the views of the association and a resolution passed at the meeting forwarding the same to Division Superintendent Henderson at Bloomington and Trainmaster Shuman at Roodhouse; also to the board of utilities at Springfield.

A very courteous reply was received from Supt. Henderson, acknowledging the letter and a promise of an early meeting. On March 23, nothing having been heard, the committee again took up the matter with Mr. Henderson with the result that a telegram was received by the agent at Murrayville requesting the committee to meet Supt. Henderson and other officials at the station on Wednesday morning at 8:40. The officials arrived at the hour named on a special train from the south and were met by the committee representing the Business Men's association and other officers of the association and village board and a number of citizens. In the party were General Manager A. P. Titus, General Traffic Manager S. G. Lutz, Passenger Traffic Manager George J. Charles, Master of Transportation X. H. Cornell and S. P. Henderson, northern division superintendent.

After the formality of introductions the visitors took up the matter in hand with the committee. They were desirous of obtaining the views of the association and the public and expressed a willingness to remedy the conditions complained of as far as practicable from a monetary standpoint. They readily admitted the inadequacy and ineffectiveness of the old depot, stating that the matter would be laid before the management, and that we might expect decided improvement in conditions in the near future.

The committee, on behalf of the Murrayville Business Men's association, feel highly gratified at the courteous manner in which the officials of "The Only Way" have responded to a request for an investigation of our claims, and if the correspondence and conferences shall result in a more comfortable and convenient depot building for the public we will feel highly repaid for our efforts and the Murrayville Business Men's association will have again justified its existence and demonstrated that in united effort there is strength. A minute to this effect has been adopted by the committee, which includes J. L. Wyatt, J. E. Thompson and W. B. Wright.

GUNPOWDER SHIPMENTS

ARE MYSTERY
Wilmington, Del., Mar. 23.—One of the mysteries of the present munitions era in American industry is the handling of the immense quantities of gunpowder that are being turned out. How it is shipped and where it goes is a mystery. It is declared that the big Du Pont mills are sending no powder abroad. Their orders come from American firms, and the amount and destinations are never divulged.

So far as can be learned, the explosives are shipped from the New Jersey plants by rail. Curious people have watched for ships to come to the docks near the shore plants, but if these ships have come, none were aware of it in the neighborhood. It is believed that the powder is for the most part loaded into shells and cartridges before being sent over to Europe and across Asia to Russia.

It is said that new processes have been developed recently which have revolutionized the powder making industry. These processes make the powder fit for use immediately, whereas it formerly took six months to make it properly.

A new receptacle for shipping gun cotton has also been developed. It is made of wood, lined inside with zinc. Twenty five per cent of water is added to the gun cotton hermetically sealed.

WHITEWASH FOR BRANDS IS EXPECTED
Washington, March 22.—The big row over President Wilson's nomination of Louis D. Brandeis for the supreme court bench will reach its final stage in the senate sub-committee tomorrow, when a vote will be taken as to the recommendation to be made to the full senate judiciary committee.

That it will be a recommendation to confirm the president's nomination is generally conceded, and this conclusion may be unanimous. The sifting of the charges brought by opponents of the confirmation has occupied many weeks. Since January 31, when the sub-committee was appointed, much evidence has been heard for and against the nomination. There has been much mudslinging, and every act and motive in the career of the brilliant Jewish attorney has been searched by his opponents for ammunition. For the most part the opposition centered in Boston corporations and Boston corporation lawyers, with whom Brandeis has had more or less conflict during his career.

The committee which has heard the evidence consists of Senators Chilton of West Virginia, Fletcher of Florida and Walsh of Montana, Democrats; and Clark of Wyoming and Cummins of Iowa, Republicans. The three Democratic members are regarded as among the most consistent supporters of the administration in congress. Senator Cummins, a progressive Republican, is supposed to be friendly to Brandeis, but was desirous of ascertaining the facts with regard to the charges brought by Clifford Thorne, the railroad commissioner of Iowa. Senator Clark is said to be opposed to a recommendation that Brandeis be confirmed, but there is hope among the friends of Brandeis that a clear-cut unanimous vote will be registered tomorrow.

The report of the sub-committee will be submitted to the senate judiciary committee, which will in turn report its recommendations to the senate. Final vote will then be taken, and it is conceded that the nomination will be confirmed nearly unanimously.

MANY REPUBLICANS SEEK MAINE GOVERNORSHIP

Portland, Me., March 22.—The Republican state convention is meeting here today to nominate six candidates for electors of president and vice president, to designate delegates to the Chicago convention and to adopt a platform. The Progressives are being welcomed back into the fold. One of the most interesting political situations in New England is found in Maine, where seven Republicans are seeking the nomination for governor. Frederick H. Parkhurst of Bangor is said to be the favorite from the large field of candidates. The others are T. F. Callahan of Lewiston, Arthur Chapin of Bangor, Dr. A. C. Hager of Ellsworth, Carl E. Milliken of Island Falls, George H. Weeks of Fairfield and Edward W. Wheeler of Brunswick. They are four Republicans in the field for the senatorial nomination. Judge Albert H. Spear, Col. Frederick Hale, ex-Governor B. M. Fernald and Ira G. Hersey are the aspirants, and each is putting up a spirited campaign.

MONTANA LAND CASE IN COURT.

Washington, Mar. 23.—Alleging that Secretary Franklin K. Lane of the Interior Department has placed an arbitrary price of $70 an acre on certain lands in Montana which the plaintiffs desire to purchase, when congress had named twenty dollars per acre as the purchase price, Fred W. Handel and Mae Handel of Montana have applied to the district supreme court for a mandamus. They seek to compel the secretary to issue a patent to the land to them and to rescind his order fixing the higher price. Justice Gould cited the Secretary to show cause tomorrow why the mandamus should not be granted.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

CITY TO BUY MOTOR FIRE TRUCKS, PERHAPS

COUNCIL PLACES ORDER FOR TWO CONTINGENT ON BOND ISSUE PASSAGE.

Authority Granted For Oiling Street Pavements—Health Ordinance Given a First Reading—Alton Officials Agree on Mathers Street Crossing.

A good deal of business was transacted and more appeared on the horizon at the special meeting of the city council held Wednesday morning. The council on motion of Commissioner Martin decided upon the purchase of two motor fire trucks from the American LaFrance company on their bid of $10,000, the order to be placed contingent upon the passage of the proposed bond issue. In other words funds will not be available for this purchase unless bonds are authorized at the election which is soon to be called.

After somewhat prolonged discussion which occasionally verged upon the acrimonious, the council by a vote of three to two authorized the use of oil on the paved streets. Mayor Rodgers, Mr. Widmayer and Mr. Vasconcellos voted in favor of the use of oil and Mr. Cox and Mr. Martin against. Mr. Vasconcellos explained that he was in favor of using water for settling the street dust and wants the city to take over the sprinkling business when it is in a position to do so. In view of the present condition of the water supply he thought it would be better to proceed with the oiling. Mr. Widmayer was personally in favor of oil but voted for the motion at this time especially because a majority of the property owners favor the oiling plan. Mr. Cox is unalterably opposed to oil and declared that he believed in his opposition he represented two thirds of the people of the town and surrounding country. Mr. Martin would have voted in favor of the permit to oil if this was limited to residence streets.

Crossing For Mathers Street. Prior to the oil discussion the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the purchase of a street flusher. If this is purchased and used it is expected to greatly lessen the amount of oiling or sprinkling necessary. The first reading was given to an ordinance repealing the ordinance providing for the opening of Mathers street, after Mayor Rodgers had explained that the C. & A. officials in the city Wednesday inspected the property and agreed to have a concrete crossing for pedestrians placed at Mathers street, thus giving a satisfactory approach from Mathers street across the tracks to Illinois avenue. The first reading of the proposed health ordinance was given. This document, although it is somewhat less in size than the one originally introduced, still includes twenty-five pages of typewritten manuscript. Only one objection was made as the reading of the ordinance progressed, that by Mr. Vasconcellos and Mr. Cox, who did not think the requirement of 1,000 square feet of lot space for each cow kept by a citizen was fair. On their suggestion the figures were changed to 400 square feet. The voluminous ordinance is said to have a number of sections which are not altogether satisfactory to all the council and it is possible that the ordinance may strike breakers before it finally passes. If this happens, the usual course with health department legislation will have been followed. A committee from the Civic League including Mrs. David Reid, Mrs. H. V. Stearns, Mrs. J. H. Danskin, Mrs. George Hollinger and Miss Cogswell, was present to follow the course of the health ordinance action.

Petition From College Avenue Residents. The discussion of the oiling and sprinkling question was brought before the council by the filing of a petition signed by sixty-five residents of West College avenue asking authority for the use of oil on that street. Mr. Vasconcellos told of interviewing all the merchants around the square to see if they would be willing to pay the city for sprinkling instead of having it done by the private firms, and he found that the petition was unanimous in favor of this plan. Mr. Vasconcellos then went on to say that while he believed this would be the proper course, that in view of present conditions that it would not be possible for the city to take on the sprinkling business at this time. The water supply is not adequate if this should happen to be a dry season, he then went on to say that Mr. Cummins, the well expert, is to be here in a day or two and the plans will immediately be put under way for increasing the supply.

Mr. Widmayer then made a motion that the petition of the West College avenue property owners for authority to use oil be granted, and subsequently he changed this motion to give authority to any property owner to make a contract for oiling. Mr. Widmayer said that he was personally in favor of oiling, as he had found it very satisfactory in front of his place of business, and that if he were a private citizen that he would get out and fight for the right to contract for oiling. Mr. Cox took this statement in a literal sense and declared his willingness to get out and fight for his views, and then Mr. Widmayer quickly explained that he was not proposing any show of strength over the matter, that he merely meant to say that he believed citizens, since they paid for the paving and the oiling or sprinkling, had a right to designate either oil or water as their preference. Mr. Martin said he could vote for the motion if it applied only to residence streets but that he was opposed to oiling the business section.

Oil Advocates Win. Mayor Rodgers thought that flushing of the streets would be well and that it might be possible at some later time to get the best results with water, but in view of conditions now, that some speedy relief must be given from the dust, as serious damage is being done to the stocks in stores. The mayor thought too, that one objection to oil in the past was that it had been applied too liberally and he thought that this year Mr. Cocking would put on a thinner coat. After again explaining that he is in favor of the city taking over the sprinkling business and using water later on Mr. Vasconcellos offered a second to Mr. Widmayer's motion. It was then put on its passage and carried by a three to two vote, said to be the first which has been recorded in the present city council.

Mr. Cocking, who was present, said that in the residence district he would make contracts for a year but because of the emergency that in the business district he would not require contracts, and if the city wanted to take the business over they could do so at any time by simply letting him know a month in advance.

FORD CARS SELLING MORE RAPIDLY EVERY DAY & EASIER

People have wondered in the past how Ford cars became popular and how they kept and increased their prestige, but that is true no longer. The Ford car has so often demonstrated its superiority in every particular that its standing no longer is doubted, and it is easy matter to sell a Ford to any person needing a car in any capacity.

C. N. Priest, the hale and hearty distributor for this territory, has just sold and delivered a five passenger car to T. B. Reeve of South Jacksonville; another to Allen Gregory of Alsea, Scott county, and a touring car to Greenleaf & Bucher of Alexander.

Mr. Priest has two carloads arriving Wednesday and Thursday and they are spoken for. Tuesday he and his men drove a lot of new Fords to his salesroom in Winchester, where he has arranged with John Coe to handle the Ford business in that district.

PEACE GOSSIP RESULTS IN LOWER PRICES FOR WHEAT

Close is unsettled, ¼ to ½ of a Cent
Net Lower—Corn and Oats Also Show Losses.

Chicago, March 22.—Altho at first the wheat market today seemed to disregard peace reports the bearish effect of such gossip became manifest later. Largely as a result prices closed unsettled, ¼¢ to ½¢ net lower, with May at 1.08½@1.08½ and July at 1.07½. Corn lost ¼¢ to 1½¢, oats to ¼¢ and provisions 10¢ to 15¢ to 15c.

It was pointed out by the wheat bears that crop damage reports were not being followed up by many country orders to purchase. The inference was drawn that the time was too early yet to place unqualified faith in assertions of wholesale injury to growing wheat.

Increasing supplies and the slowness of eastern demand pulled down corn. Besides estimate were current that 3,000,000 bushels in private elevators here would be transferred to public storage and delivered on May contracts.

Oats were depressed by the weakness of other grains. Heavy sales of lard acted as a weight on the provision market. Eastern interests were credited with buying most of the hogs.

STOCK MARKET RECORDS SOME SUBSTANTIAL RECOVERIES

Trading Revolves Almost Wholly Around the Varying Aspects of the Foreign Situation.

New York, March 22.—In keeping with its recent irregular and illogical course, today's market recorded some substantial recoveries from lowest levels of the early week, mainly in consequence of official denials of overnight peace rumors. Trading, which was somewhat restricted by the storm, revolved almost wholly around the varying aspects of the foreign situation.

Developments of broader financial interest such as the persistent weakness of exchange on Germany and Austria, and another break in the Paris rate excited little attention except in banking circles.

Domestic news touching upon the market included the announcement of the placing of additional large orders for equipment by railroads and weekly reviews by steel trade review authorities which offered further evidence of the increasing activity in that industry at rising price schedules.

Stocks opened unevenly, hardened and fell again before mid-day, that brief period covering the major portion of the day's operations. In the afternoon the market strengthened and retained much of its advance at the end.

United States Steel, Crucible Steel, Mercantile Marine preferred, metal and equipments in fine, the usual leaders contributed measurably to the relatively small total of 510,000 shares.

The course of Anglo-French war bonds was watched with special interest that issue having come to be regarded as a barometer of conditions affecting the allies. Trading in the bonds was very large early quotations showing decided strength but the price reacted a small fraction before the end of the session.

'Healthgrams' On Skin-- Flashed to Thousands

One of Nature's signals is an unhealthy skin. It is a scientific fact that the skin indicates the condition of the blood and the blood is the building material for the body and all its vital parts. Unless the blood is nourished and kept rich and healthy, it will eventually react on the organs it feeds and reduce the individual to a pitiable condition. Little do people realize the physical ailments that drain away strength and vitality and that can be traced straight to the poor supply of blood. Pimples, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Carbuncles, Boils, Catarrh with its obnoxious results and the tendency to easily catch cold, Malaria and scores of other equally serious ailments, are all manifestations of bad blood. For over 50 years S. S. S. has been a mighty remedy for these disorders. Thousands of men and women have been relieved or actually cured by S. S. S. Many of them had spent years and hundreds of dollars for other remedies in a fruitless endeavor to regain health—a marvelous tribute to S. S. S. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and when taken into the stomach is absorbed by the blood, supplying certain elements which stimulate the action of the blood corpuscles and help them drive out impurities and build up the system. With such a tried and true medicine awaiting you at the closest drug store, will you go on suffering and looking badly when so many others similarly afflicted have turned to S. S. S. and found the meaning of perfect health. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about your case without cost to you if you wish to avail yourself of this service. at Liverpool an undertaker claimed he was truly indispensable. The tribunal told him to "R. I. P." for six months. After that he must join the army, where there is much work to be done by those skilled in the burial of the dead.

The Lord Mayor of London, an enthusiastic worker for recruits, applied to the London tribunal for the exemption of a footman employed at the Mansion House. The application said it was in the national interest that Mansion House arrangements for recruiting the public work generally should not be disturbed. Sir T. Vezy Strong, the chairman, thought a postponement of one month sufficient to allow the Lord Mayor to make other arrangements.
A widow of Pease obtained a three months' respite for her eligibility on the ground that he was indispensable to the conduct of her small laundry.
"He calls for and distributes the laundry," said she, "and does more ironing than any two women."
The tribunals face their greatest difficulty in dealing with the agricultural districts. Some farmers have gone to the extent of threatening to abandon their farms entirely if not allowed sufficient help. The tribunals now have adopted the policy of allowing 3 men to each acre of farm land. In the meantime hundreds of thousands of women are being recruited for farm work.
One young man unsuccessfully quoted from a speech of the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, in the House of Commons, in seeking exemption on the ground that he was the sole support of widowed mother. He quoted Mr. Asquith to the effect that the taking away of the sole support of a widow would be "monstrous." The application was refused when it was shown there were other relatives with whom the mother might live.
Another young man told the tribunal it was condemning his mother to death in sending him to war.
"If I were alone in the world I should have gone long ago," he added. It appeared, however, the financial condition of the family was sufficient.
A theatrical manager was granted three months' grace when he explained that if there were no amusements "the people would have nowhere to go."
A cartoonist thought himself indispensable because his drawings amused the soldiers at the front; "the champion clog dancer of the world" thought his supremacy in that art should not be endangered; "the best violin maker in England" felt he was needed at home; a popular "Nipper" of the music halls felt that London's indispensable review would be failed without him; a buyer of silks, an "expert sausage cutter," a warehouse "Samson" with remarkable lifting ability, a Bible packer all made pleas, but obtained exemptions for brief periods only.
The plea of conscientious scruples against war is heard infrequently before the tribunals. The possessor of such scruples generally comes in for a very severe grilling.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "It is notorious that the net yield from the single classes has been very disappointing. Married men and married women, too, have shown that they are prepared to discharge to the full every claim that their country possesses. But they will not tolerate a more lenient regime for those who have lighter responsibilities than themselves, and the exemptions which have been granted to some bachelors make one wonder how the tribunals are going to justify themselves in calling up any head of a family for service."
FORTY WOMAN'S CLUBS WILL SEND DELEGATES
Conference of Illinois Equal Suffrage Association Will be Largely Attended.
Chicago, March 23.—Delegates from at least forty women's organizations in the west central part of the state are expected to be in attendance at the conference of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association which will be held in Macomb April 14 and 15. Mrs. Harrison Munro Brown, the president of the state organization who will preside, has the program underway.
The conference will open Friday evening the fourteenth, with a mass meeting at which former State Senator Hugh S. McGill of Springfield will be the principal speaker. The following day will be given over to a general discussion of various lines of civic work in which women have accomplished results, and other affairs that should be undertaken by them. Talks will also be made by Mrs. Harriet T. Treadwell and Mrs. Helen Stewart of Chicago, and Mrs. Stella Holloway McClung of Monmouth, members of the state board.
Among the subjects which will be taken up especially as of much import to women of that district are the city beautiful movement, community morals, community centers, motion picture censorship, building of more and better schools and the furtherance of the campaign to obtain places for women on school and library boards, according to Mrs. Brown.

FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE

London, Mar. 23.—Military service tribunals, consisting of anywhere from seven to twenty members, are sitting throughout England hearing applications for exemption from men eligible at the front. Many complaints have begun to go up over the leniency shown by the tribunals to single men who have offered rather fantastic reasons for evading service in the army. Complete exemption has been granted in comparatively few cases, but postponements have been most frequent, and the tribunals now are being warned that every single man excused means the earlier calling out of the groups of married men tested under the Derby plan.
There is every indication that it will not be long after April 1 next when the first married men will be called to the colors. Thus far the married men in the army have gone only thru voluntary enlistment. The compulsory service act does not apply to them as yet, but thousands have attested their readiness to serve when the supply of single men is exhausted.
Many single men, with mothers or sisters dependent upon them, are making the claim that their domestic duties are just as sacred and just as deserving of the nation's consideration as those of the married men. They make the further plea that their family obligations were imposed on them thru no act of their own, whereas the married man assumed liability for others thru voluntary choice.
"I am to be called away from the support of my widowed mother and three dependent sisters," said one young clerk, "I will be followed by the thought that they must eventually go to the workhouse, and I am sure that under the circumstances I would not make a very good soldier for the King."
The tribunal thought otherwise. Exemptions are sought upon the theory that the applicant is "indispensable" to the conduct of the business in which he is engaged. Often the pleas are made by the employer who himself is beyond military age. "This clerk manages my entire business and is absolutely indispensable," said one employer to the tribunal at Lewisham.
"And what do you pay him?" asked the chairman.
"Seventeen shillings, sixpence a week."
The tribunal held that "absolute indispensability" was worthy of higher consideration than four dollars a week and the clerk was swept into the army.
One employer appealed for the exemption of an "artistic sign painter."
"In such a time of stress as this I think the country can get along with artistic signs," ruled the chairman.
At Liverpool an undertaker claimed he was truly indispensable. The tribunal told him to "R. I. P." for six months. After that he must join the army, where there is much work to be done by those skilled in the burial of the dead.
The Lord Mayor of London, an enthusiastic worker for recruits, applied to the London tribunal for the exemption of a footman employed at the Mansion House. One young man unsuccessfully quoted from a speech of the Prime Minister, Mr. Asquith, in the House of Commons, in seeking exemption on the ground that he was the sole support of widowed mother. He quoted Mr. Asquith to the effect that the taking away of the sole support of a widow would be "monstrous." The application was refused when it was shown there were other relatives with whom the mother might live.
Another young man told the tribunal it was condemning his mother to death in sending him to war.
"If I were alone in the world I should have gone long ago," he added. It appeared, however, the financial condition of the family was sufficient.
A theatrical manager was granted three months' grace when he explained that if there were no amusements "the people would have nowhere to go."
A cartoonist thought himself indispensable because his drawings amused the soldiers at the front; "the champion clog dancer of the world" thought his supremacy in that art should not be endangered; "the best violin maker in England" felt he was needed at home; a popular "Nipper" of the music halls felt that London's indispensable review would be failed without him; a buyer of silks, an "expert sausage cutter," a warehouse "Samson" with remarkable lifting ability, a Bible packer all made pleas, but obtained exemptions for brief periods only.
The plea of conscientious scruples against war is heard infrequently before the tribunals. The possessor of such scruples generally comes in for a very severe grilling.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "It is notorious that the net yield from the single classes has been very disappointing. Married men and married women, too, have shown that they are prepared to discharge to the full every claim that their country possesses. But they will not tolerate a more lenient regime for those who have lighter responsibilities than themselves, and the exemptions which have been granted to some bachelors make one wonder how the tribunals are going to justify themselves in calling up any head of a family for service."
FORTY WOMAN'S CLUBS WILL SEND DELEGATES
Conference of Illinois Equal Suffrage Association Will be Largely Attended.
Chicago, March 23.—Delegates from at least forty women's organizations in the west central part of the state are expected to be in attendance at the conference of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association which will be held in Macomb April 14 and 15. Mrs. Harrison Munro Brown, the president of the state organization who will preside, has the program underway.
The conference will open Friday evening the fourteenth, with a mass meeting at which former State Senator Hugh S. McGill of Springfield will be the principal speaker. The following day will be given over to a general discussion of various lines of civic work in which women have accomplished results, and other affairs that should be undertaken by them. Talks will also be made by Mrs. Harriet T. Treadwell and Mrs. Helen Stewart of Chicago, and Mrs. Stella Holloway McClung of Monmouth, members of the state board.
Among the subjects which will be taken up especially as of much import to women of that district are the city beautiful movement, community morals, community centers, motion picture censorship, building of more and better schools and the furtherance of the campaign to obtain places for women on school and library boards, according to Mrs. Brown.

CHAPTER 35

Millers of White Patent Flour Do Not Suspect the Extent to Which They Have Been Responsible for Anemia, Tuberculosis, Heart Disease, and the Other Preventable Ills that Follow in the Wake of Impaired Vitality and Lowered Resistance to Disease.

Having learned that constipation is the enemy of both mother and child, and that it is widespread among the adults of both sexes, and that it gives rise to many physical ills which originate in congestion, inflammation, irritation, and absorbed toxins, it is beginning to dawn upon us that there are indeed many reasons why not only the prospective mother and her unborn babe but also all living creature should not be robbed of the potassium, sodium, magnesium, manganese, iron, phosphorus, sulphur, silicon, chlorine and iodine which are removed from all white bread, crackers, biscuits, patent flour, pastry flour, cake flour, and the various breadstuffs and breakfast foods prepared from these demineralized and foodless materials.

The millers will never know how many babies they have handicapped not only from birth, but even prior to birth thru their commercial disregard of the laws of nature, or thru their commercial presumption that, knowing more than nature may teach, they possess, therefore, the right to interfere with the inexorable laws which the Creator has ordained.

Be it remembered that no chemist can tell us in terms of grams and things about the exact quantity of phosphorus, iron, potassium, lime, silicon, sodium, magnesium, manganese, sulphur, chlorine, fluorine, or iodine which we should take into our bodies every day.

Nature has fixed that mysterious and hidden formula for us, yet, confounded in our wisdom, we turn our backs upon the truth and seek destroying novelties in the paths of darkness.

The chemist admits he can never tell us the exact quantity of these bio-chemic salts necessary to the life and health of the human creature. These chemists at Columbia University devoted months to a study of but three of the twelve food minerals, determining nothing as to the quantity of them required, but determining everything as to their necessity.

Humanity seems unwilling to trust the Creator in this respect. Eminent scientists seem unable to believe that all natural unrefined foods, whether they be fruits, grains or grasses, contain all the elements necessary to see them safely on their journey thru the body.

By assuming the right to manipulate, modify, or destroy the presence but three of the twelve food minerals in commercial breadstuffs, they refuse to see the wreckage they have left in the wake of their mineral contempt. They do not know how they have burrowed into the vitality of human life while it is still in the mother's womb.

They do not suspect to what extent they have been responsible for anemia, tuberculosis, heart disease, and the other ills, such as pneumonia, diphtheria, scrofula, measles, appendicitis, diabetes, Bright's disease, cancer, etc., that follow lowered resistance.

Lowered resistance destroys natural immunity. Of this we shall see much as we proceed. Lowered resistance makes way for the invasion of tuberculosis. Of this also we shall see much.

We cannot go into a theatre, a church, a public building, or a trolley car, or walk along the dusty city streets without inhaling the living micro-organisms which cause tuberculosis, yet, if our resistance is normal, we need have no fear of the disease because the germs are destroyed as fast as they enter our bodies.

If this were not so, because everybody is exposed to tuberculosis, all the nations of the earth would perish from this disease.

It is the same with typhoid fever. In typhoid epidemics all do not develop the disease. Normal vitality provides in some the resistance necessary to combat the assault, however violent it may be.

We shall soon see just what the nation is doing to destroy this vitality that confers immunity; this resistance that withstands the assaults of disease-breeding organisms.

Thru the facts about to follow we may obtain at least some hint of the relationship which our denatured foods now bear on the annual deaths of nearly 400,000 children under ten years of age in the United States and to the constant increase in those diseases of adult life, cancer, diabetes, Bright's disease, appendicitis, hardening of the arteries, and organic heart disease, which are destroying so much of the best among men and women.

When Booker T. Washington, at the age of 57, died of hardening of the arteries before his great constructive work in behalf of the black race had been finished, he took with him not only a burning zeal and a resourceful mind, but also a vast experience which the world could ill afford to lose.

In such untimely deaths as his, of which there are, alas, hundreds of thousands every year, the world may see, if it will, the tragic cost of its indifference to this subject.

BROWNING LAND CASE HEARING IN PROGRESS

EVIDENCE IS BEING TAKEN BEFORE SPECIAL MASTER IN CHANCERY.

Document Written by Late D. R. Browning Placed in Evidence—Gives Story of His Business and Personal Life From Early Days—Years of Accomplishment—Defense Seeks to Prove Decedent Was Sole Owner of Properties He Held and That Generous Treatment Had Been Accorded Mrs. Orear.

In the last May term of the Morgan county circuit court, Mrs. Sallie B. Orear by her attorneys, Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty, filed a partition suit directed against the Farmers State Bank & Trust company, alleging that partition of the lands belonging to the estate of her deceased brother, D. R. Browning, was necessary in order to protect her property rights. Kirby, Wilson & Brockhouse represented the bank in the proceedings and after the case came before the court it was referred to Master in Chancery Clark. Hearings were had from time to time, and when John M. Butler was appointed master an order was made naming Mr. Clark as a special master to continue the taking of testimony. This week evidence has been given in behalf of the defendant bank and the defendants have until April 15 to complete their testimony. Afterward there will be the opportunity for Mrs. Orear's attorneys to present any further evidence they may desire.

Witnesses examined Tuesday and Wednesday in behalf of the defendant were C. C. Capps, A. L. French, E. C. Lambert, Dr. Charles E. Scott and Frank J. Heintz. Mr. French's testimony was with reference to some details of the manner in which Mr. Browning had attended to his business affairs. Mr. Heintz was on the stand to identify a document which was written by Mr. Browning at the same time that he made his will. The document gives a resume of his business and family life from the time he came to Jacksonville in 1873 clear up to the time of the making of his will. This document was placed in a sealed envelope addressed to Mr. Heintz and was left in Mr. Browning's box in the vault of the Farmers State Bank & Trust company.

The record of Mr. Browning's local history was evidently written when he had in mind that there might be a suit involving his property.

It is a story of intense interest showing as it does how a man in the face of many obstacles was able to aid various members of his family and the one he came here penniless nevertheless succeeded in accumulating a handsome fortune.

The purpose of the defense in filing this statement is in an effort to show that Mr. Browning was the sole owner of all the property held in his name and that it was not owned jointly with his sister, Mrs. Orear, as the bill in the case alleges. The purpose seemingly is to show that the deceased turned over liberal sums of money to his sister during his lifetime and that he did not recognize that she had any legal interest whatever in his holdings.

Mrs. Orear is contending that a co-partnership agreement was entered into between herself and her brother years ago and that the property he accumulated was so accumulated jointly and that she is entitled to a full half interest in practically all of the property belonging to the estate. The very unusual document which was made a part of the records of the case Wednesday was written by Mr. Browning before his death as follows:

Came to City in 1873.

"In May, 1873, I came to Jacksonville, Illinois and accepted a position in The Central Savings Bank here, leaving my father's family in Kentucky, consisting of my father, mother, my brother Marcus and sister Sallie, and two maiden twin daughters, Caroline and Evelyn Rees, sisters of my mother. Some time during the year 1876 I received a letter from my father telling me that he was financially ruined, in fact a bankrupt. My two aunts had a little money and I also received a letter from them saying my father had shown them the letter he had written me and offering me their money to use as I saw fit for the support of the family, using the income or any part of the principal if necessary. I went to Kentucky and found their means consisted of some acres of their brother, W. E. Rees of Winchester, Ky., and a note of my father to them secured by a mortgage on his residence property in Lexington, Ky. The notes of their brother I found, on consulting an attorney were worthless in the shape they were, for the reason that they were not properly signed by his wife, who owned the property. Taking one of my aunts along I went to Winchester, Ky., and after much persuasion induced my uncle's wife to join my uncle in a second mortgage on their hotel property at Winchester, and took their note for $4,400.00 in full settlement of all claims against them.

Traded for Land Here.

"Lawsuits being instituted against my father, I brought suit to foreclose the mortgage of my aunts and the home property was bid in by them at foreclosure sale, and they obtained title to the property in Lexington, which I afterwards traded for 100 acres of land south of Orleans, which I sold for $4699 cash. I thus secured for them $4000.00 and also the costs of litigation and other expenses from my own funds. The note of my uncle, after about twenty years, I finally collected, after spending a considerable sum from my own pocket in trips to Kentucky looking after the collection of interests from year to year.

"In the fall of 1877 I went to Kentucky and induced my father to move with his family to Jacksonville. I paid several hundred dollars of debts of my father, traveling expenses of the family and freight on the car load of furnishings, which used up every dollar of the six or seven hundred dollars of savings I had accumulated during four years of work in the bank over and above remittances I had made to my father from time to time for the support of the family in Kentucky.

"I rented the residence at No. 1036 West Lafayette avenue at $20.00 per month and established the family here. My brother who was the only one of the family, except myself, earning anything was working for $25.00 per month.

"I loaned this money of my aunts to Dr. L. W. Brown, adding to it from year to year whatever I could spare from my salary, after paying all the family expenses from my own funds, except what assistance my brother could give from his meager salary.

Wiswell Place Purchased.

"In 1893, my aunt Caroline having died, the Central Bank failed and Dr. Brown gave a mortgage to my aunt Eveline and myself on 240 acres to secure us in the money he had borrowed, afterwards deeding to me the 240 acres, and I had a settlement with my aunt, deeding her 64 acres, which she accepted at a valuation of $5000.00 and which constituted her estate at the time of her death in 1902. With the exception of what little financial assistance my brother could render in farming the 5 acres where we lived on the Mound Road at the Pitt place, afterwards moving to the Henry Wiswell place on Mound Avenue, where he conducted a dairy till his death in 1898, and from which he never derived a great deal of revenue, I furnished all the financial support of the family, paying all the bills for current expenses, doctors' bills and a surgical bill for an operation for cataract on my father's eyes.

"I furnished my sister with the best of clothing so that she could appear to advantage in any society in Jacksonville or elsewhere. In assisting me in the household cares she was seldom without domestic help which I furnished; she always had a horse and buggy at her disposal, and in this way I always endeavored to lighten as much as possible the burden for her, and on her frequent visits to Kentucky and elsewhere, often for months at a time I paid all expenses and furnished her with ample spending money. My brother and I in our business transactions were as one; we never kept any accounts with each other, and what I had he was at perfect liberty to use, so when I purchased with my own funds the Wiswell place, on part of which I still reside, it being convenient to have some property in my brother's name, so that we could sign the notes of each other in borrowing from the bank, I had the deeds to that property and also to the forty acres which I also purchased just south of it, made to my brother. The year preceding his death he asked me to let him deed it back to me, saying it had been purchased with my money and he did not feel he rightfully owned it. He died, however, without so doing, thus leaving the legal title to these two properties after the death of my mother, in my sister and myself.

Refers to Property Settlement.

"On the marriage of my sister in 1904, to T. B. Orear, I deeded to her all my interest in the home place on Mound Avenue, which I considered, so far as any legal obligation was concerned more than onset any interest in the other property, and supposed she looked at it in the same way as she and her husband joined me in the deed to the other property without question, when I sold it for $6000.00.

"When in 1909, I decided to get married, I had saved and had invested in good securities $10,500 with which I expected to build and furnish my home. During a conversation with my sister in May, 1909, she seemed to feel that she had not gotten her full share in my aunt's estate, and that I had not done for her as much as I should have done, and that I ought to give her something additional for her own use. So in order that she might have no cause for feeling this way about it, I turned over to her the whole of this $10,500.00 and also paid for one half the cost of the house she built for her colored cook, Ada Oliver; this cost me about $250.00. I did this that my sister might have no cause of complaint, and because I did not want her to feel that I had not done the right part by her, and hoping she would appreciate it, and hoping that her future relations with myself and wife would be as cordial and affectionate as they always had been previously. What my sister has today has all come from me, with the exception of a few hundred dollars, which her husband has given her from time to time.

"She holds at this date the following securities to-wit:

Annuity Bonds of the church Extension Fund of the Christian church, bearing 6 per cent interest.....	$ 6,000
Real estate loans on the following farm lands in Champaign Co., Ill., well secured and bearing 5 per cent interest, to-wit:
Hans C. Snider.....	1,000
G. B. Loshen.....	1,500
A. Hardesty.....	4,500
H. C. Parrish.....	9,000

Making a total of.....$22,000

She also owns a note purchased from the Jville Nat. Bank with the money I recently paid her for land purchased from her home place.....1,000

Making.....$23,000

Mrs. Orear's Holdings.

"Her holdings, therefore, consist of her elegant twelve room residence with all the necessary out buildings, and a new barn just constructed, for which I paid $500 cash as part of the purchase price over the $1000 mentioned. The furniture in said home much of which I had paid for and took nothing with me when I left, except one bed room set from my room. Also in connection with this is about 9 acres of land so situated that she can sell off nine lots, 70 feet front on South Webster avenue, 400 feet deep, and then leave her the house and all improvements and approximately three acres of ground, and also the $23,000 heretofore specified, so that I feel that I have generously provided for my sister, after making full allowance for anything she could claim in settlement of any claims from the estate of my aunt or brother.

"I have never taken any receipt from my sister in full satisfaction of all claims she might have against me for her share of the two estates for the reason I felt she knew and realized that so far as my brother's estate was concerned it was all paid for by me and out of my individual earnings, and that the money of my aunts had been largely consumed in their support, doctors' bills, funeral expenses and costs of litigation and management and collection of their money. It was my disposition, however, to be so liberal with my sister that it would cover anything she might reasonably expect from these two estates and give her a generous allowance besides, and I think her notions as above specified will in the minds of any reasonable persons bear me out in this contention."

Sulphur and Cream Tartar Lozenges

You remember the good old childhood days, when sulphur and molasses formed the necessary part of the Spring medicine treatment; but we don't take sulphur and molasses any longer; now we take sulphur and cream tartar lozenges, the old-fashioned favorite remedy, in a brand new dress. These lozenges are of a convenient size, equal doses, easy to eat as candy, and are more beneficial and resultful than the old-time sulphur and molasses. A box costs ten cents.

WILL ENFORCE SPEED ORDINANCE STRICTLY

Commissioner Martin said yesterday that the department of health and safety will start at once with the enforcement of the speed ordinance specially as related to automobiles. It is the intention to have auto drivers obey the law with reference to stopping when they overtake street cars receiving or discharging passengers; with reference to speed limits and some other provisions which have sometimes in the past been violated. The commissioner very much hopes it will not be necessary to put on an extra officer to bring about this law observance but as soon as it develops that the services of a special officer are needed, one or more men will be pressed into service. If car drivers will use care and discretion the city can be saved the expense of this special service.

NOTICE.

Sealed bids are hereby asked by the city council for supplying the city with one street flusher. Specifications are now on file in this office. Bids must be accompanied by certified checks for one-tenth of the amount of the bid. The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

RALLY FOR CONVERTS HELD AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Seventy Are Welcomed by Membership Wednesday Evening—Service Next Sunday.

A special meeting for prayer, praise and testimony was held Wednesday evening at First Baptist church, as a rally for the converts who united with the church during the recent revival. The pastor, Rev. P. W. Stephens, spoke to a well filled auditorium on "What God Expects of the Christian," a message based on the last section of the Red Book, which was used during the revival series.

Three points were emphasized by the pastor, "Godward, the Deity expects communion," "Selfward, He expects sanctification," and "Manward, He demands service."

A. A. Curry of Pisgah was present and led in prayer. A large number of testimonies were offered, the first two of which were given by young women converted at the revival conducted by Rev. Mr. Stephens last January at Waverly. A goodly number of the younger converts spoke and at the close of the meeting while the audience sang "Loyalty to Christ," the young people, seventy strong, marched in single file and, led by the pastor, formed in a receiving line and were greeted by the members of the congregation.

Refreshments were served by members of the Pastor's Aid society, of which Mrs. O. N. Barr is chairman. To each convert was given a book selected especially from the Colportage library of the Colportage association. Two additional candidates professed conversion at the rally Wednesday night. Several candidates will be baptized at the opening of the services Sunday evening.

FUNERAL OF DR. JAYNE HELD IN SPRINGFIELD

Large Attendance of Friends of Deceased—Illinois College Sent Representatives.

The funeral of Dr. Jayne, conducted at the late residence of the deceased in Springfield on Enos street yesterday afternoon, was a memorable event, the effort being to secure the attendance principally of his elderly friends as far as possible. In the audience were three, Dr. George Pasfield, John W. Bunn and William Ridgley, who had known him more than seventy years. The faculty of Illinois college was represented by Dean Hayden, the trustees by Andrew Russell and the Phi Alpha society by Arthur Gustafson, secretary. Mr. Emsley Moore was one of the college alumni present.

The services were conducted by Rev. George T. Gunter, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, and a very interesting talk was made by Judge J. Otis Humphrey, who had known Dr. Jayne for many years. He told in glowing terms the conditions which existed when the doctor was born and of a visit he made to Old Salem where he saw an awkward youth sitting on a barrel absorbed in a book and his father then remarked that he believed there was an outcome to that boy. That young person was Abraham Lincoln, with whom Dr. Jayne was an intimate friend for many years. Fine musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Grace Fish Partridge. Burial was in Oak Ridge cemetery.

The city council of Springfield adopted suitable resolutions, the public library was closed from 1 to 6 p. m. and many other evidences of respect were shown. A message of sympathy was also sent by President Rammelkamp of Illinois college.

CHURCH SIGN IS STOLEN.

The Azoga bible class sign was removed from the front of the First Baptist church Saturday night. The theft was evidently the work of some mischievous boys as it is improbable that the sign could be of any benefit to anyone other than the bible class. It is very much hoped by the members of the class that whoever has the sign will return it at an early date.

EAGLES PLAN FOR STATE MEETING AT ROCK ISLAND

Official Program Received by President Correa Yesterday—Emblem Presented Dr. Webster.

At the regular meeting of Jacksonville aerie 509, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Wednesday evening there was a large attendance of members. Plans for attending the state meeting at Rock Island in June was discussed by the aerie. Only five more members remain to be secured to entitle the local aerie to three delegates to the state convention. More than ten applications are in waiting and it but remains to have them present to be initiated before May 1 in order to secure the three delegates.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of an Eagle watch charm to Dr. G. O. Webster, the aerie physician. The charm is a beautiful piece of work. It is two eagles' claws mounted in gold with the letters "F. O. E." in gold. The present was from a member of the aerie who is a close personal friend of Dr. Webster. The presentation speech was made by Grand Deputy Henry Herring and Dr. Webster responded briefly.

The fire department was called to the property at the corner of East Independence and Hackett avenues about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. A stove had in some manner tipped over and set fire to the floor. A hole was burned in the floor and only the joists saved the stove from falling into the cellar. The blaze was extinguished with the chemical with but small damage. The house is owned by Miss Landreth of South Main street and is occupied by M. S. Smith and family.

CHICAGO & ALTON OFFICIALS PAID VISIT TO NICHOLS PARK

Made agreement for Certain Changes Which are Wanted There in Order to Complete the Proposed New Golf Course—Company and Golf Players Will Share Expense.

Jacksonville was visited yesterday by a company of Chicago & Alton railroad officials who are going over the road inspecting conditions, visiting agents and getting general information relative to the best interests of the great corporation of which they have the management.

The party included A. P. Titus, general manager; George J. Charlton, passenger traffic manager; H. Cornell, general superintendent; S. P. Henderson, division superintendent; S. G. Lutz, general traffic manager; C. W. Galligan, general freight agent; A. E. Lee, assistant general freight agent; W. H. Abel, general passenger agent.

The party came up from Roodhouse in private cars 500 and 503, conductor C. W. Jones, V. Wallace, brakeman; Archie Brown, engineer, George Rexroad, fireman, engine, 452.

In company with F. E. Farrell, representing the golf interests; City Engineer Henderson; S. W. Nichols and Terence Brennan representing the park board the officials rode out to Nichols park in their private train and looked over the grounds and investigated the desires of the golf people. Those interested in golf found out after they had laid out their nine hole course north of the lake that it would be very desirable to get across the lake, continue their course southward along the west part of the park grounds to the south boundary, nearly, and then eastward almost to the bridge crossing the lagoon to get to the southwest portion of the park where the ball park and gun club grounds are at present.

To accomplish this in the best manner the golf people prepared a series of blue prints setting forth their plans and ideas and then asked the co-operation of the Chicago & Alton officials in the matter as they knew the friendly feeling that exists on the part of the company toward the city.

The best plan for crossing the lake was a three foot bridge with a railing passing from abutment to abutment of the Chicago & Alton bridge. Approaching it from each side for quite a distance piling should be driven along the base of the railroad grade and a cinder walk constructed inside the piling. Then it would be well to cut down a small rise in the ground of the railroad right of way, south of the lake to fill in the low places east of the track along the west lagoon or arm of the lake. Drains would also be extended southward so as to do away as far as possible with all the marshy land along side the west arm of the lake. The cinder walk passing along the west boundary of Nichols park would be extended to the walk contemplated and the fence along the railroad right of way would be removed as it is unsightly and there is no use for it as stock is not permitted to run at large in the park grounds.

After looking over the ground and taking all things into consideration, with the quick judgment for which he is noted, Mr. Titus estimated the total cost of the desired improvement to be $300, and he agreed to pay half and the other half will be borne locally. The advantage to the road will be keeping people off the track. The way to the ball park and the golf course will be quite a highway and now the railroad bridge is the only means of crossing. At that point trains run fast to gain momentum getting up the grade into the city and it is very desirable that all keep off the railroad track.

As already explained the golf people are to receive from the park board $500 putting up the same sum themselves and already they have in sight a much larger sum.

Several of the railroad officials here said they would come down from Chicago and play a game of golf after the new course is in shape.
